SEPT. 21—AFTER MOVIES AND REFRESHMENTS AT THE GIRLS’ MIDD
NIGHT THE FRESHMAN GIRL S WALKED DOWN THE GYM STEPS, FLANKED ON BOTH SIDES BY PRACTICALLY THE ENTIRE MEN’S COLLEGE, AND SO WERE OFF TO THEIR FIRST 11:30 PERMISSIONS.
We have lined up here the Past, Present, and Future of Middlebury College. Mr. Wiley, an old Midd grad, represents the Past, not because he is old by any means, but because he operates in the official capacity of Alumni Secretary. He maintains old contacts, makes new ones, and generally keeps his eye on the careers of the Midd men of former years. Our Dean, Doctor Patterson, tries to steer the boys right while they are here, settles questions of scholarship and ethics, besides teaching in the Economics Department. And Bill Craig, captain of our '36 football team, looks to the future of the College in that he lines up prospective Middlebury students.
We can’t herd our administrative officers into quite so neat a category here, even though the Women’s College of Middlebury admittedly has its past, present, and future. Miss Jennie Bristol, a Simmons graduate, acts in the capacity of Registrar to both colleges, and she brings order out of the confusion of registration day at the gym. Miss Eleanor Ross, Middlebury Phi Beta Kappa, is the popular Dean of the Women’s College, and she hopes some day to have her office on the women’s side of the campus. Cooperating with Dean Ross is Miss Mary Williams, young Director of Admissions for the Women’s College. Incidentally, the women’s scholastic standing usually surpasses that of the men.

SEPT. 23—QUESTION: DID PROF. SCHMIDT HOPE TO WIN THE ADMIRATION OF HIS BOYS BY SPRINGING A QUIZ AT THE FIRST GEOLOGY CLASS? ANSWER: PROF. SCHMIDT DID NOT GRADE THE QUIZ PAPERS.
Mr. Storrs Lee furthers the work of the Admission and Alumni Officers of Middlebury College by doing excellent work in editing the college publications—bulletins, newsletters, etc., while Messrs. Fritz and Hope are responsible for getting in the money that keeps the College running. And not least important are the duties of the Librarian, Wy Parker, who displays great patience in initiating the undergraduates to his system for finding books.
OUR FACULTY

This year at Middlebury has been a year of changes, not only for students, whose future plans have been disrupted by the impending military training, but also for faculty members. Because of the unrest of the times, because of sabbatical leaves and illnesses, the students have seen new faces up in front. And so we feel that this page devoted to new faculty members serves a good introduction to our faculty.

STANDING—MR. CHARLES HICKOX, MR. LAURENCE BARRETT, MR. SAMUEL GUARNACCIA, MR. THEODORE ZAREMBA
SEATED—PROF. WILLIAM MADDEN, PROF. THEODORE WEILER

When the Middlebury students returned last fall, they were greeted by a number of new personalities on the teaching staff. Not all of these, however, were new to Middlebury.

Mr. George Akerstrom, one of the alumni, replaces Mr. Nash as Instructor in the department of Physical Education.

Mr. Charles Hickox, after having spent several years studying at the University of Oklahoma, returned to assume the duties of Instructor of Geology.

Mr. Cameron McGraw, of the class of 1940, returned to the Music Department as an assistant.

Mr. Theodore Weiler fills the vacancy left by Professor Sholes of the Sociology Department, who is on sabbatical leave.

Mr. Laurence Barrett has joined the teaching staff of the English Department.

After obtaining a Master's Degree at Syracuse University, Mr. William Madden became an Assistant Professor in the Psychology Department.

Mr. Theodore Weiler fills the vacancy left by Professor Sholes of the Sociology Department, who is on sabbatical leave.

Mr. Laurence Barrett has joined the teaching staff of the English Department.

After obtaining a Master's Degree at Syracuse University, Mr. William Madden became an Assistant Professor in the Psychology Department.

FACULTY

SEPT. 25—FIRST ISSUE OF THE 'CAMPUS' CAME OUT TODAY, WITH HEADLINES ON THE APPROACHING WILLIAMS GAME. FELLOWS WHO HAVE NEVER PLAYED A MUSICAL INSTRUMENT ARE TRYING TO JOIN THE BAND FOR A FREE TRIP TO THE GAME.
American Literature

American Literature at Middlebury is entirely separated from the regular English courses. Headed by Professor Reginald L. Cook, Chairman since 1929, and assisted by Mr. George W. Allen, the department offers a popular major and includes, besides regular subjects, Special Research Courses in Emerson and Thoreau.

Biology

"If it's Biology, we can do it." Long the slogan of this department, the new initiate will hear it upon his entrance into the "Baby Bug" lab.

Among the courses offered are: General Biology, Anatomy, Physiology of Plants, Physiology, Bacteriology, Genetics, Embryology and Histology. In other words, from the above you may learn the development of the world and its inhabitants from the microscopic amoeba to that complex creature called man.

At the head of the department is Professor Samuel E. Longwell. As Assistant Professors of Biology, Charles D. Howell and Rex N. Webster contribute their share towards making it a really worthwhile field to pursue.
CHEMISTRY

When Middlebury College is discussed among people who are strangers to the school, it is usually referred to as a fine institution in the field of modern languages and English. Quite true, but little do such strangers realize the fame of the Middlebury Chemistry Department among those well versed in the field.

It is a department both progressive and impressive. Twelve percent of the graduating class of 1940 were "chem" majors. The curriculum offered by the department includes General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Quantitative Analysis, Biological Chemistry, Physical Chemistry, as well as a separate department of "Household Chemistry" for the women of the college.

Under a new program the second half of this year, the Civil Aeronautics Board offers a course for which a semester's college credit is given. Ground school instruction is under Professors Bowker, Wissler and Swett, while flying is done at the Bristol airport.

SEPT. 27—ARRIVED AT THE OFFICIAL CONCLUSION THAT THE ELECTION WAS BETWEEN THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP. ELEVEN OF TWENTY FAVORING THE THIRD TERM PRINCIPLE, BUT ONLY SIX WHERE ROOSEVELT WAS CONCERNED.
CONTEMPORARY CIVILIZATION

"Excellent." This might be Miss Moody's comments on one of the fourteen required book reports. Many feel it a just evaluation of this course of modern economic, social, and political trends under Professor Waldo Heinrichs.

DRAMA AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Closely allied with the extra-curricular activities of the college, the department also provides a comprehensive understanding of the art and practical appliances of speech. All phases of play-production are stressed, thereby engaging more talents.

D. & S. G. & G.

This alphabet soup is readily translated into the Department of Drawing and Surveying and the Department of Geology and Geography. The links between the two are the third floor of Warner Science and Professor Swett, who teaches in both departments.
ECONOMICS

"Pipe" and Economics are not synonymous at Middlebury. Nevertheless, "Ec" is fifth most popular Midd major.

Department Head Harry M. Fife, B.A., M.A., a great teacher and sympathetic adviser, with a wealth of world-wide experiences, aids students in analyzing and diagnosing, aiming toward the middle road. He believes that, given the facts, students are fully capable of moving in the right direction.

Labor's champion, enthusiastic Paul Rusby, B.A., M.A., presents the sociological view.

James S. Prentice, B.A., M.A., broadened by oversea contacts, approaches from conservative angles, expounds historical significance.

John H. Patterson, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., grapples with fundamental principles, ranges from middle to conservative.

ACCOUNTING

Turning out men and women who are capable of doing good bookkeeping is the main object of this course in accounting given by Mr. Zaremba. A knowledge of practical accounting is a necessity in order to understand advanced economics and the ramifications of price, supply and demand, etc. The practical aspect of accounting is stressed. Neatness is one of the main requisites of a good accountant, and accuracy goes with it.

MR. ZAREMBA

SEPT. 29—THE GIRLS WERE NOT ALL PRESENT AT CHAPEL THIS AFTERNOON. DISCOVERED LATER THAT THE MOUNTAIN CLUB HAD CAPTIVATED THE FAIR LENOSES FOR THE DAY. WHAT IS CLOSER TO GOD THAN NATURE?
EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Professor Howard and Professor Madden are the instructors of the Educational Psychology courses here at Midd. One of the interesting projects carried on in the department this year was a series of personality and aptitude tests which the students took and later scored themselves.

ENGLISH

Each year the Department of English becomes a more active and popular one in the Middlebury curriculum. We can credit this to both its personnel and the variety of courses offered.

The courses start with such works as "Beowulf" and "Canterbury Tales" and continue right through modern prose and poetry to include men like John Steinbeck and Robert Frost. In their scope they cover the fields of literary history, drama, composition, criticism, and, to prove its diversity, courses of Bible study of both the Old and New Testaments.

Under the sponsorship of the English Department this year is the new undergraduate magazine, Directions, which substitutes for the Saxonian.

SEPT. 30—MOUNTAIN CLUB HANG-OVER: "I WOKE UP WITH A STIFF NECK AND HAD TO LOOK TO THE LEFT ALL DAY. EVERYONE PASSED ME ON THE RIGHT; SO I WASN'T CONSCIOUS OF MUCH THAT WENT ON."
FINES ARTS

Standing in Forest recreation room in front of an exhibit of Modern Painting, or seated at the piano playing to illustrate a certain point, Professor Harry Owen carries on his class in Fine Arts. It includes philosophy, music and literature as well as art, and makes you believe that culture and you have now been formally introduced. The thrill of finding that Modern Art is no longer a complete mystery, but that you can understand at least part of it is wonderful, and makes you feel very superior!

FRENCH

Pride of the Middlebury French School is the Château, the first especially constructed French house in the country. Before its dedication in 1925, students wishing to "live the language" stayed at the Logan House downtown. After two years they moved up to Hillcrest. The Château, a gift of Mrs. John R. Proctor, is the largest dormitory of its kind in the country today, and the only one in old French architecture.

One of the objectives of the Middlebury system of French education is to make life in that language so habitual that the student forgets that he is speaking a foreign tongue. As Doctor Freeman says, he must learn to "laugh in French."

Besides the Bacon Bat, the Château sponsors the Dunmore Outing, a Hallowe'en party, a Christmas party and a Micarême celebration with pancakes.

Doctor Stephen A. Freeman has headed the French Department since 1925.

OCT. 1—JUST INTERVIEWED A FRESHMAN ABOUT BLUE KEY PROCEEDINGS. TIME: 3 A.M. QUOTE: "WHAT A GOD-AWFUL HOUR THEY PICK! TRIED TO SCARE HELL OUT OF US, BUT THEY ONLY HALF SUCCEEDED."
GERMAN

The present conflict in Europe seems to have had little effect on the interest in German at Middlebury College. German was the first modern language introduced at Middlebury College, and it is still a popular subject although the number of German majors is not large.

HISTORY

The History Department at Middlebury provides a broad background of European and American history with special concentration in each field. The department offers also invaluable correlation with other major courses. English, American Literature and Political Science majors find history courses to dovetail perfectly with their field of concentration. An historical background is necessary for almost every course. There is opportunity to do much supplementary reading in all the history courses. This permits wide choice in readings and a student may follow the historical branch in which he is most interested: art, music, science and others. Courses in historical method are provided for students who wish to teach history.
HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics, with Miss Knapp at the head of the department, offers us numerous courses. The Homestead, where the girls have practical home management experience, is one of the most popular women's dorms on campus.

ITALIAN

The Italian Department was established in 1925 by Professor White who taught the subject until 1939. Mr. Naiden and Mr. Guarnaccia have been the instructors in 1939 and 1940, respectively. Two Italian courses are offered.

LATIN AND GREEK

Greek and Latin have been taught at Middlebury for 140 years. Although the courses are no longer required in the College curriculum, many students still enroll in them. Professors Dame and White are the instructors.
MATHEMATICS

The department is a popular one for those who take Mathematics for its own sake and for those who want to correlate it with their major. A solid background is given to future teachers of the subject.

MUSIC

Although the Music Department is well equipped to instruct in practical courses, its main objective is to cultivate an appreciation of music based on a broad knowledge of musical form and history.

Courses are offered in harmony, counterpoint, musical form, and history and literature of music. Indicative of the worth of the purely academic courses is the popularity of Music 32, an introductory course in the history and appreciation of music.

The regular head of the department, Professor L. J. Hathaway, has been on sabbatical leave this past year, but with the aid of the gifted pianist, Cameron McGraw '40, Professor Bedford, Mr. Carter, and Mr. Dickinson have assured the continued success of the department.

OCT. 4—BARB AND I WENT UP TO SEE RODERICK HEMPHILL PLAY THE CHIMES THIS EVENING. IT IS FASCINATING TO WATCH. BUT THE MUSIC SOUNDS BETTER FROM WITHOUT, SINCE THERE ARE SO MANY OVERTONES UP INSIDE THE STEEPLE.
PHILOSOPHY

For anyone interested in philosophic thought and its development the department offers much. Pre-Socratics, Plato and Aristotle, the British, and the great nineteenth century philosophers are studied, with plenty of class discussion in all courses.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
MEN

Coach Brown, Professor Beck, Instructors Akerstrom and Kelley find the students taking a new interest in their department this year. The boys feel that marching tactics learned from these men will aid them greatly in case of conscription.

WOMEN

The Women's Physical Education Department under the lively direction of Miss Rosevar and her assistants sees the freshmen and sophomores through a vigorous program which changes with the seasons.

OCT. 5—THE BLACK PANTHERS LIVED UP TO THEIR LAST WEEK'S PERFORMANCE AND MADE THE MORTAR BOARD GYM DANCE A REAL SUCCESS. THE ONLY GLOOM WAS A GHASTLY SILENCE HOVERING AROUND OLD CHAPEL BELL.
Before the present crisis the interest in government was based on what political institutions were doing, not on what they were. However, the challenge of the autocracies of Central Europe has made people more aware of the importance of institutions by which nations act. It is this fact—that the state is peculiar and vital to the individual for achieving the values of life which he considers important and that he must be fully conscious of it—that the professors in the Political Science Department, Mr. Walter T. Bogart, Mr. Linford A. Lardner, and Mr. Cornwall, are impressing upon the student.

Physics, one of the greatest of all sciences, plays an important part in almost every phase of modern living. Formerly on the curriculum connected with Natural Philosophy, the Physics Department came into its own right in 1807 with a laboratory all its own.

Starting with a limited amount of apparatus, most of which was imported from Europe, the Physics Department has now grown to be one of the largest and most completely equipped laboratories on campus.

The department, comprised of Mr. Benjamin Wissler and Mr. Vernon Andrews, strives to give a well-based knowledge of the science: the principles involved, its practicality, and its application to the interminable number of problems in the physical world.

Despite long hours of research and laboratory work, students find Physics the most practical of Natural Sciences.
SOCIOMETRY

According to Professor Weiler, the purpose of Sociology, or "Soc" as it is commonly called, is "the mitigation of our ethnocentrism." For the benefit of non-sociologists, this is another way of saying that sociology should make us more broad-minded. "Soc" tends to do this through explaining the whys and wherefores and hows of other cultures, not in contrast to, but rather in connection with, our own culture. Advanced courses in the field deal with social organization in cities and rural areas, the family, criminology, and social institutions.

Doctor Weiler is in charge in Professor Sholes' absence.

SPANISH

The Spanish Department, headed by Professor Juan A. Centeno, Assistant Professor Rose E. Martin and Instructor Samuel Guarnaccia, sets as the goal for majors the modern and practical use and comprehension of the language as well as the usual introduction to literature and culture.

It is largely because of this aim, useful both culturally and in business, that Spanish has become popular at Middlebury.

Class Officers
It is always interesting to watch the development of the men and women chosen as the officers of the freshman class. It is a new class, unfamiliar material, and officers are chosen on a limited basis since it is impossible to know personalities at such short notice. These eight, four from the men's college and four from the women's, have all proved active in campus affairs.

John Urban is president of the men's class, Paul Davis vice-president, Bob Sheehan is treasurer. At present the class is without a secretary because of the withdrawal of Ray Lawler. All these men are well representative of the class, athletes and students, fraternity men from three houses.

Of the women's class, Mary Sparks is president, Ruth Green is vice-president. The position of secretary is held by Jean Chatfield and the treasurer is Louise Cosenza.

Versatility and individuality are certainly the keywords of this class, new to Midd, but promising much.

OCT. 11—THE BLUE KEY FURTHER SUGGESTS THAT SINCE FOOTBALL PROGRAMS ARE NOT CIRCULATING WELL AMONG THE WOMEN, A VISIT TO FRESHMAN WOMEN SHOULD ALSO BE INCORPORATED INTO ITS "LINE OF DUTY."
The frosh harriers, coached by Coach Brown, broke even this year with a victory over R. P. I. and a loss to U. V. M. Despite this loss the frosh runners were better than average and in spirit, they were exceptional. In both meets the Blue and White boys were handicapped by rain.

In the first meet at R. P. I. the Panthers took the bacon away from a powerful Rensselaer frosh team by a score of 25-30, lower score winning. The two teams ran the tough three-mile course in a driving rain storm. Meister of R. P. I. came in first with a time of 13 minutes 43 seconds, but Parker in second place, Davis in third, Stetson in fifth, Hartz in sixth and Kinsey in ninth, were able to garner a lower combined score than the first five R. P. I. men.

The meet with the University of Vermont, the last team competition of the season, again took place on a cold wet Saturday morning. The grueling three-and-a-half-mile course was in extremely poor condition as a result of two weeks of constant rain. Goodell of U. V. M., an outstanding runner, finished the course in first place. His time of 18 minutes 43 seconds was only one second slower than the best time ever made on the course. Grant and Lockwood of U. V. M. took second and third place respectively. Davis, our first man, came in fourth, followed by two U. V. M. men. Hal Parker of Middlebury took seventh and the next Midd men to place were Booth, Stetson and Mooney. Middlebury lost 17-38.
FROSH FOOTBALL

The 1940 frosh eleven, coached for the first time by Sammy Guarnaccia, came through undefeated to mark one of the best yearling grid seasons in recent years. True, they turned out for practice a little lighter than average, but Sammy and his assistant, Bill Craig, hoped to remedy this later.

Such coaching, coupled with previous experience, brought a 26-20 victory over the Union team. Despite the close score the Garnet freshmen were unquestionably outplayed. The Panthers scored twice in the first quarter on passes from Hale to Lawler and Sheehan, while another Hale-Lawler pass connected in the third. Nichols scored the last touchdown when Pepin blocked a kick.

Hardest opposition came from Kimball Union, a 7-7 deadlock. During the last few minutes Hale, Pepin and Sheehan worked 99 yards to a touchdown with passes, and in suspense, Hale kicked the tying point. Traditionally toughest rival was U. V. M., but paradoxically was not, as the Midd frosh took the Kittens 13-0, led by the running of Sheehan and line play and punting of Holly Hollister. A first-period touchdown resulted from a Fleming-Pepin pass, while the second touchdown came through a Vermont fumble. Little Tom Rooney, Johnny Urban and Phil Grant threatened to score several times during the second half, but the game ended without further scoring.

After the ball game was over, the election of a season’s captain was held, and Johnny Urban’s mates honored him with thecaptaincy of this undefeated team.

FROSH FROLIC

Last year's Frosh Frolic was held late in March at the Inn. The Barbary Coast Orchestra brought their own decoration motif—the Inn was a reincarnation of the old Barbary Coast: moss, silver doubloons, and dusky dancing silhouettes. Unfortunately, the book was published too late to include the Class of '44's Frolic, which promises even greater success.

Frosh Frolic Co-Chairmen "Dutch" DePodwin and Edith Johansen certainly know how to put over a formal. Their choice of a staff illustrated this. The poster contest was a grand idea of the publicity committee, and the decorations committee also did very well. The cooperative work of these committees and chairmen, with the help of the Chapel dog, would indicate a "super" formal.

H M E N
OFFICERS

There is a consistently high scholastic average evident among the men and women who compose the officers of the sophomore class.

On the men's side are representatives of four fraternities and varying interests. President of the class is Ed Peach for a second year. M. Scott Eakeley is vice-president, and Bill Engesser is secretary. Ed Shea holds the position of treasurer.

Women's sports are also keynotes of the group of women's sophomore officers. Virginia Wynn is president of the class. Margaret Dounce is vice-president, Helen Rotch secretary. Treasurer is Margaret Ferry.

This is a pretty typical group, all interests and abilities. It is interesting to note that many times, and this is true of the sophomore group, officers are re-elected and kept for the four years of college.

DON'T BE COY, GIRLS

OCT. 19—THE APPEARANCE OF FRESHMAN HANDBOOKS PRODUCES A MINOR MOB SCENE IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE. EXCITEMENT COMES AS THE MOB INCREASES, BUT BOOKS ARE GONE.

MT. CLUB SPECIAL

MORES
SOPH HOP

An old Midd custom is to hold the Soph Hop on Thanksgiving Eve, and this year was no exception. Formally attired, we danced from nine till two in a patriotic atmosphere of American flags and red, white, and blue bunting in McCullough Gymnasium, to music furnished by Harder Downing and his Continentals.

Connie Linde and Dick McGarry, co-chairmen of this year’s Soph Hop, were aided by Bill McLoughry and Beth Warner on decorations; Scott Eakley and Georgia Childs on publicity; Dick Morehouse and Peg Bullock on programs; Jim Nourse and Denise Aubuchon on orchestra; Pete Nikitas and Jean Jordan on tickets; and Johnny Walsh and Dottie Forsythe on chaperons.
Perhaps we have wasted time, but now, faced with the prospects of comprehensives next year, we shall really get down and grind.

Oct. 21—College life is youth and activity and gaiety. War and death are outside and for the future. So when these things reach inside to our little group, they are almost beyond our realization and comprehension.
In Memory of Tom Ripa

WHAT WAS SINGULAR ABOUT TOM WAS HIS ENTHUSIASM FOR LIVING, WHICH HE TRANSFERRED TO ALL WHO CAME INTO CONTACT WITH HIM. A YEAR AND A HALF AGO TOM KNEW HE WOULD NEVER BE BACK WITH US AGAIN, BUT AT THAT TIME HE GREETED A FEW OF US CHEERFULLY DOWN AT WILLIAMSTOWN, FULL OF PLANS FOR RETURNING TO MIDDLEBURY THE FOLLOWING SPRING. THERE WAS NO HINT OF TRAGEDY; WE BELIEVED HIM. YET WE DIDN'T SEE THE DESPAIRING TEARS IN HIS EYES WHEN HE HAD TURNED HIS BACK ON US FOR THE LAST TIME. HE WAS TOO PROUD AND FINE FOR THAT. SO IT IS HARD TO IMAGINE THAT TOM ISN'T SOMEWHERE IN MASSACHUSETTS WAITING TO RETURN TO MIDD AND PLAY SOME MORE HOCKEY AND BASEBALL WITH US. A FINER FELLOW NEVER LIVED THAN TOM RIPA.

OFFICERS

For a long time the junior class was an economy-minded class, for it combined in the men’s offices the positions of secretary and treasurer. However, that was before they got together and elected Johnnie Prukop to that position vacated by Aaron Shannon, who was treasurer.

President of the men’s class is A. Wilson Wood, active in fraternity, athletic, and social activities, while Vice-President Ken Cosgrove and Treasurer Prukop are the football players of this little coterie. Secretary Ed Yeomans, an all-round good man, specializes at first base.

On the other side of campus Mary Clough rules the class of 1942, besides being assistant editor on the Campus staff. Her stand-in is Lucene Slayton, the girls’ baseball expert, while Virginia Poole, three-year W. A. A. enthusiast, is secretary, and Ellen Holt holds the position of treasurer.

It is during one’s junior year that important positions are filled and the college student reaches the height of his “career.”

The staff of the 1942 Kaleidoscope wishes to apologize for omitting two deserving members of the Class of 1942 from the Junior section. Stanwood Johnson and Theodore Ogden have made the grade (or grades) and now are rightfully entitled their two inches of space in the yearbook. Also, the staff wishes to congratulate the following Junior for his noteworthy achievements as a member of our class:

DEC. 2—I ASKED SOMEBODY WHAT “FACETIOUS” MEANT. HE POINTED OUT A PERSON SAYING SIMPLY, “HE IS FACETIOUS.” THEN I KNEW PERFECTLY. A WORD. THEN, IS USELESS UNLESS IT IS A SYMBOL OF LIFE.
TIME HAS CAUGHT UP WITH US, AND OUR FOUR MOST OPPORTUNE YEARS HAVE FLED. TOMORROW WE PASS DOWN OUR CROWN OF SENICRITY.
In Memory of Edward Pearson

IT IS FITTING THAT WE HERE PAY TRIBUTE TO EDWARD PEARSON, JR., AN ENERGETIC AND AMBITIOUS SENIOR WHO DIED SUDDENLY ON OCTOBER 20, 1940. HE WAS AN ALL-ROUND BOY AND A GOOD MAN TO KNOW. HE WAS DEEPLY APPRECIATIVE OF EVERY KINDNESS SHOWN HIM, AND IN RETURN WAS ALWAYS WILLING TO HELP HIS FELLOW CLASSMATES. DURING HIS FRESHMAN AND SOPHOMORE YEARS HE MADE THE DEAN'S LIST AND CONTINUED ON TO A PHI BETA KAPPA KEY IN HIS JUNIOR YEAR. BUT MORE THAN THAT, HE THREW THE HAMMER ON THE TRACK TEAM AND WAS AN ACTIVE MEMBER IN THE MOUNTAIN CLUB.

ONE CANNOT HELP BUT WONDER WHY A MAN OF SO MUCH PROMISE HAD TO LEAVE US. OUR FRIEND IS GONE, BUT HIS MEMORY WILL ALWAYS REMAIN IN THE MINDS OF THOSE STUDENTS AND INSTRUCTORS WHO KNEW HIM.
OFFICERS

Class officers are usually chosen on the basis of activity, interest, and personality. This is no less true of the senior officers. Each is an individual, has been active in fields of his own interest, and each will leave a different place to be filled when he leaves.

The four officers, Margery Barkdull, Mary Stetson, Pegram Williams and Jean Connor, of the women’s college, present a typical cross-section of the class. Each has credits for participation in athletics, as well as for scholastic honors. Organizations are also well represented, as are tryout and executive positions.

CLASS OF 1941

Four fraternities are represented in the four officers of the men’s senior class. Stephen Arnold, Dan Armstrong, Bob Johnson, and Tom Bennett each will be remembered for different performances or abilities: major sports, all-Midd teams, social and organization offices. Armstrong has headed the Mountain Club, Johnson has managed athletics; these are few among the activities of this versatile group.

Interfraternity Sports
There will be a meeting of the Interfraternity Council tonight at seven-thirty in Warner Hemicycle." So reads the Chapel notice, and so it is forgotten except by sixteen men; for these sixteen men, two from each of the eight fraternities constitute the Interfraternity Council, one of the most important of campus arbitration machines.

Under its president, John M. Nugent, the Council functions, acting not only on important matters such as freshman rushing, but also on any small questions which may arise: To whom belong the rabbits shot on DU land by DKE's with Chi Psi rifles? And so is established mutual good feeling among the fraternities.
At Middlebury, where the Alpha Xi's borrow the Pi Phi's dresses for their rushing parties, the good old "Panhell Spirit" is a tradition. Composed of two representatives from each of the seven sororities on campus, the Panhellenic Council is exceedingly effective in enforcing sorority rules and in furthering cooperation between sororities.

The presidency of this organization, founded in 1932, is held by each chapter in order of its establishment at Middlebury. Panhellenic is in charge of women's rushing, beginning rushing activities with a tea to which all transfers and Freshmen are invited.

To the most outstanding girl in the Sophomore class, the Council presents an award based on scholarship, need, and outside activities. The sorority having the highest scholastic average at the end of each semester receives a cup.

INTERFRATERNITY SPORTS

Fall intramural sports started with a rush, with individual and mixed doubles in tennis, interfraternity golf and touch football. Individual tennis was won by Tom MacDonald '43 and Williams '44 was runner-up. In the final match of the mixed doubles Lew Haines and Helen West squeezed a three-set victory over Jack Crawford and partner, Doris Lathrop.

Bob Davidson, Jack Lundrigan and Jack Young won the golf trophy for the D. U.'s after beating the Dekes in the final round matches. In touch football the Chi Psi's basketball passwork, with a good combination among Red Talbott, Jack Hicks and Bill Woods, turned the trick. When the dust had settled in the final game between K. D. R. and Chi Psi the latter was declared the winner by 13-6. The next intramurals were deferred until after men's rushing.

Volleyball saw a lot of keen competition before D. K. E. finally emerged victorious. K. D. R. was runner-up. In the individual handball competition, which was next on the schedule, Martin Wittlin of the Neutrals took first and Summy House of the K. D. R.'s was in second.

Due to the poor snow conditions in February the intramural ski races were not able to be held. In basketball new talent from the Freshman Class added color to the contests. K. D. R. was the strongest here, for they nosed the Dekes out by an eight-point lead, to garner the basketball cup. In the hockey finals the Dekes triumphed by a three-point margin over the B. K. team and got the coveted award.

The board-track relays were yet underway when this edition went to press. Team badminton was next on the program, softball and track to follow later in the spring.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE KALEIDOSCOPE
Only through the good work of the freshmen could the Panther hold his tail up this season. No matter! Congratulations are in store for Manager-Elect Bob Bredenberg and Co-Captains-Elect Prukop and Wishinski, all of varsity football.

SPORTS
Just as a powerful Middlebury football team went undefeated in 1936, so a hard-fighting, but undermanned, 1940 eleven went through its season without a single win.

Williams

The first game of the season, played on a sun-baked field at Williams, ended in a 14-6 defeat for the Panthers. On the second play of the game, the over-confident Purple team pulled a stunt which netted Captain Johnson's Panthers six points. Upon the first down after Wishinski's kick-off the Williams quarterback called for a quick kick. But the ball went out of bounds on Williams' own 26-yard line, and VanGaasbeck carried the ball to the 7-yard line for a first down on the very next play and then plunged to a touchdown. The attempt at a conversion failed.

Williams scored in the second half on reverses by Meehan and straight-line blasts by Holden. Here the play was fairly even, as Johnson broke the Purple pass threat with a brilliant interception. In the last cantos, Williams drove to the winning touchdown.

Tufts

The following week, at Boston, the team encountered a strong Tufts eleven. Middlebury outplayed the Jumbos throughout the first half, but in the third quarter Harrison, Tufts ace, broke through to score twice on double reverses. Soon after, Patterson plunged over from the 4-yard line, making the score 19-0.

In the fourth period, Harrison again scored twice. With only a few minutes left to play and the score 38-0 against them, Mid-
Middlebury opened up with a series of passes tossed by Don Chapman. This succeeded in moving the ball to the Tufts 4-yard stripe. Then Chapman, on a straight-line buck, made the score 38-6.

Union

Third on the schedule was a powerful Union team which came here to claim its eleventh straight victory. The Garnet, with her superior strength on the ground, had an ineffective air attack, however, completing only two out of seventeen passes.

The visitors' first score came early in the second quarter. Later in the same period, Union's Davis received a lateral and carried the ball over for the second tally, making the score 13-0. Once during the first half, Middlebury almost scored when Captain Johnson, eluding would-be tacklers, ran 34 yards and was finally brought down on the Union 9-yard marker. On the next play, a VanGaasbeck-to-Bertuzzi lateral carried the ball to the 1-yard line. The Union forward wall was impregnable, however, and Middlebury failed to score.

Late in the third canto, Johnson went off right tackle, reversed his field, turned and ran 60 yards for a touchdown, bringing the final count to 13-6.

Colby

A combination of Colby power and Maine cold proved too much for the Panther eleven in their next encounter. In the first quarter the teams played on even terms. Captain Johnson and Sammy Bertuzzi did most of the ball carrying, but were held down to short runs.

Colby, though minus Captain Daggett, really got going in the second quarter. From then on, four Colby men got a chance to score, and the final tabulation was 26-0.

Norwich

The state game at Norwich was clearly a one-sided affair. Led by Dynamo Domina, the powerful Norwich Horsemen ran through and around the Blue and White team. Most of the Norwich action centered about the fleet-footed sophomore tailback, who by the end of the game had scored five of the six Cadet touchdowns.

Middlebury fought hard through the entire game. In the third quarter Johnson received the kickoff and ran it to the Midd 39. On the next play a pass from Johnson to Mayo put the ball on the midfield stripe. There a penalty was called and the ball was moved to the Norwich 31. Then Johnson went through center on a spinner, cut to the left and was brought down on the 20 for a first down. Two attempts gained but little yardage and then on the third, a pass... from Johnson to Mayo in the end zone scored. VanGaasbeck ran his end and picked up the extra point, making the final score 38-7.

Hartwick

The Panthers played Hartwick in a downpour which converted Porter Field into an arena of mud. The comparatively weak Hartwick team was able to use its superior weight to an advantage in the morass, while both teams were forced to resort to first- and second-down punting.

Middlebury scored early in the game when the Oneonta club fumbled in their end zone and Clapper fell on the ball, making the score 6-0. This score remained unchanged until late in the game.

Early in the last quarter Johnson punted from the Middlebury 5-yard line out to the Midd 45. Redden of Hartwick ran the ball up to the Middlebury 33 before he was stopped. Then Casey, with a line-buck, broke through into secondary territory, evaded a whole mass of mud-covered Middmen and sprinted 31 yards to score. The try for the extra point failed. Then on the last play of the game Hartwick completed a field goal from the Midd 19 to snare a 9-6 victory.

Coast Guard

A strong Coast Guard team scored a 33-0 victory in the next home game.

In the first quarter the Panthers came nearest to scoring. A 29-yard pass from Johnson to Bertuzzi brought the ball to the Sailors’ 40-yard line. After a Johnson punt, the Sailors fumbled and Beach recovered for the Panthers on the Coast Guard 2-yard line. A running play was stopped and in a second attempt, a pass from Johnson was intercepted by a Coast Guard man.

U. V. M.

A wet and freezing Porter Field greeted Vermont, the traditional rival, in the last game of the year. Middlebury’s only hope seemed to lie in Porter Field, which since 1922 has always been a jinx to the U. V. M. team when they played here. All was to no avail, however, for Vermont played their strongest offensive game of the season.

VanGaasbeck, Cosgrove and Johnson played a fine defensive game, but that did not prevent the Vermont offense from tearing holes in the Midd line. Vermont scored in the first quarter by a pass and by three runs and a line-buck in the third quarter. This 33-0 defeat ended the season.
VARSITY CROSS-COUNTRY

The varsity cross country team, led by Captain Freddy Butler, had an unlucky season last year, dropping all five of their meets. In the opening encounter at Union, Howie Schleider was the first Midd man to place when he tied a Union man for third. The next Middlebury men to place were Smith in fourth, Captain Butler in fifth, and Egbert in ninth. Union won, 18½-36½.

At Williams a powerful Purple team took the first five honors for a perfect score of 15-40. R. P. I., the next competitor and conqueror of Union and Williams, defeated Midd by a perfect score. Butler and Egbert were the first Midd men to come in from the four miles of rain-soaked pavements. Springfield College likewise won by a 15-40 victory.

The last meet was held here at Midd in the rain and mud against a very strong Vermont team. Jack Egbert, in fifth, was the only Midd man to place. The score was 16-39. Dave Smith is next year’s captain-elect of the harriers.
Please excuse the KALEIDOSCOPE in this section for conjuring up an indoor relay team. We just had to have one, and, after all, didn’t Johnnie Hicks run at Boston? Other teams hung up their togs on only fair seasons.

Middlebury's 1940-41 hockey season was one of the great changes, first in the matter of a coach and, secondly, in the varsity line-up.

This year was the initial start under the régime of George Ackerstrom as varsity mentor, and throughout the season he experimented with various combinations, hoping to find one which would work efficiently. Such a system, while it did not lead to a highly successful season this year, does enable one to look with hope towards next year, since only two of the lettermen are graduating.

Customarily the season started with the Lake Placid Invitation tournament, and in their first test the Panthers opposed the fast flying Williams sextet, dropping the decision by a 6-0 count. In spite of this unfortunate beginning, the Blue and White recovered sufficiently to come back the next day and emerge with a 2-1 win over Union. Cornell was the final team met by the Panthers during the Placid meet, and the Ithaca team won by the close score of 1-0.

Immediately following was the Boston trip, during which the varsity faced the sextets of the University of New Hampshire and Boston University. Both of these teams played a superior brand of hockey, with the work of their wingmen being especially good. Score of the New Hampshire game was 5-1, while the B. U. sharpshooters netted the puck ten times to make the final count 10-3 against Middlebury.

Second victory of the season was gained at the expense of M. I. T. during Middlebury's first home game. Although the scoring punch had not yet been found, the work of Dixie Davis in the goal enabled the Blue and White to come out on top by a 1-0 score.

In the first meeting of the two clubs, Norwich won a closely contested fracas at Northfield 4-2, in a game which was still undecided until the final gun. Travelling to New York State, Middlebury matched the efforts of the Union sextet, which had improved tremendously since their first meeting at Lake Placid. 0-0 was the score of this contest, showing once again the excellent defensive work of the Panthers. Against the Hamilton College skaters the front line went to work and notched up three tallies, but the defensive faltered to some extent, allowing their opponents to ring in four markers.

Norwich was met for the second time, this one at Middlebury. The Kaydets led by three goals going into the final period, but fast work on the part of the wingmen Jack and Fred Bates, Stan Johnson, Don Gale, Captain Whitey Hawes and Jack Ross knotted the count, making the final 5-5.

Dixie Davis in the goal once more came to the fore in the next two contests of the season. He held the Alumni team, headed by last year’s captain, Bill Wyman, scoreless, as a Winter Carnival audience witnessed a 0-0 tie, and in the Northeastern fray he thwarted forty-seven attempts on the part of their shooters—which was excellent work and atones partly for the 9-1 score of the game.

Final home game of the year was against St. Michael’s College, and Middlebury scored heavily on a substitute goalie until he suffered a cut forehead on a follow-up shot. The regular net tender returned to action, but the Blue and White skaters kept netting the disk until a final count of 8-3 was gained.

West Point was the scene of the final tilt of the hockey season, and the Kaydets won 8-1, with four of their goals being scored in the final three minutes.

Throughout the season Middlebury tried various combinations of Jack and Fred Bates, Jack Ross, Stan Johnson, Don Gale and Captain Whitey Hawes on the front lines. In spite of this, no definite scoring punch was found, which handicapped the team considerably. Defensively the work of Jack Young and Will Mayo, along with Jack Lundrigan was good, while Dixie Davis did fine work in the nets, with Tommy Turner always ready to lend a hand.

FEB. 2—BACK FROM A TRIP TO MONTREAL . . . EVERYBODY IN TOWN ASLEEP EXCEPT THE TAXI MAN, WHO MET US AT THE STATION. WE FELT AS THOUGH WE WERE KEEPING HIM UP TOO.
Middlebury College's varsity basketball team once again finished the season very much on the wrong side of the ledger, emerging with only one victory in eleven starts.

However, the season's record is not really as bad as it appears on paper, for the quintet was definitely an almost team, since only three of the losses was by more than a ten-point margin.

Each of the five regulars who won their letter were excellent courtmen in their own right, but throughout the entire schedule they met with considerable difficulty, not only from their capable opponents, but also from a lack of cohesive teamwork.

The scoring punch was there—Captain Nick Krauzer at center was a certain point getter on those nights that he was clicking, but on his off nights his scoring punch was not very effective—and thus it ran in-and-out all season long. Freddie Lapham and Tommy Neidhart both were fine shots, but for some reason the team never seemed to work a sustained offense. against their opponents. Guard work on the part of Bob Adsit and Bill Ouimette was of the same calibre—good, but just short of victory.

Although the team did not capture a victory in the state series against Vermont, St. Michael's and Norwich—the score of every game but the second Vermont encounter was close—and three of them very much so. Thus it was all season long—a team that was just three or five baskets short of victory in each game.

In addition to the five lettermen, Red Talbott, Scott Eakeley, Jack McMann, Earle Bishop, Russ Dale, Lou Haines and Parke Wright of the upper classes did their share in a losing cause; and with the beginning of the second semester three freshmen joined the squad—Skip Harris, Bill Calkins and Bobby Schrack—all of whom will come in handy in the future.

Viewing the season in a more detailed light we find that the opener with Williams was one of those three games lost by more than a ten-point margin, but this proved to be merely the calm before the storm as was shown by the ensuing record.

Visiting the Garnet and Grey of Union, the Panthers balanced the young season's budget with a 40-28 win, and it is interesting to note that the game was viewed by one Middleburyite not connected with the squad. At least he offers proof.

The state of Massachusetts continued to be the team's waterloo, as the excursion to M.I.T. and Tufts brought on two more Blue and White losses. However the battle at Tufts was highlighted, in that we faced a team which held down the powerhouse of Rhode Island State to a respectable margin, and although we didn't win, the margin of victory for the Jumbos was a slim nine points.

Norwich university provided the opposition for the initial contest of the Green Mountain Conference series, and the Panthers dropped this one in the closing minutes when the Kaydets rallied to punch across a 30-27 win.

Our ancient and bitter rivals, the Catamounts of the University of Vermont, continued their athletic supremacy by winning the first game of a home and home series 47-21, thus spoiling the fun for the Middlebury fans as they saw the team perform in McCullough gymnasium for the first time of the season.

A sore and weary Panther crept north to Winooski to put an end to a disastrous campaign, only to suffer another wound—this being inflicted by St. Michael's College.

Five men bore the major portion of the burden for the Middlebury ski team this year, these five, Captain Bob Gale, brother John Gale, Ira Townsend, Bob Stuart, and Bob Sheehan, receiving only the assistance of Bob Darrow, Ray Unsworth, Bill Hawks, and Dwight Smith, who, incidentally, was not up to the form of his freshman year. Under such conditions, however, the Midd skiers made a quite respectable showing.

At the Lake Placid meet, held during the Christmas holidays, they fared rather badly—due to poor weather, only three events were run, the Midd contingency leaving the meet early on the assumption that the slalom could not be held under such unfavorable conditions. Consequently, they finished last, though dependable Ike Townsend turned in a ninth in the langlauf and Bob Sheehan took eleventh in the jumping.
At Williamstown Middlebury ended trailing five other teams, as Dartmouth took first place. The Blue and White did very well until the last day, when Sheehan and Stuart were disqualified in the downhill.

Norwich was the surprise team here, coming within five points of nosing out Dartmouth. Merrill Barber of Norwich broke the jump record of 108 feet by leaping 123 feet. Bob Stuart of Middlebury made 111 feet, but fell in the process. Bob Sheehan was the third man of the day to get over the 106-foot mark. Middlebury made almost a perfect score in the slalom, with Ike Townsend leading the field.

At the Dartmouth carnival the Panthers fell down in the jump for the first time of the year. In a large measure this was due to the fact that the jump was the last event held, and that all the men jumping had competed in the events preceding. This included the langlauf, in which McLane of Dartmouth collapsed after winning the downhill event in the morning. Bob Gale took a fifth place, and Ike Townsend a seventh place in this cross country event. Middlebury, in taking fifth place, was third of the American teams. New Hampshire took first, Dartmouth second, with McGill and the Royal Norwegian Air Force third and fourth.

Winter carnival at Middlebury almost saw the Panthers take first place in their home meet. That we were nosed out was due in a large measure to injuries suffered by Johnny Gale, who sprained his ankle in the slalom, and Bob Sheehan, who strained his knee badly in jumping practice the day before. He jumped in competition, taking fifth place, but he had to be stopped at the bottom of the hill with ropes. Conditions were the fastest and the trickiest of the year, with the ski trails not in too good shape to begin with. Ike Townsend, nevertheless, taking the trail wide open, swept to first place in the downhill, and Bob Gale had the fastest time in the slalom, but lost the event on combined time to Bobby Clark of New Hampshire.

The I. S. U. meet, held on Mount Mansfield a week after the Middlebury carnival, resulted in a sixth place for the Panther skiers. Townsend, coming in eleventh, was the first Middman in the cross country. He kept up this good work in the slalom, with Johnny Gale, recovered from his bad ankle, just ahead of him.

The results of the season as a whole can be rated as only fair. But certainly the calibre of Middlebury's individual skiers cannot be unnoticed. Ike Townsend is one of the best all-around skiers in college competition. The Gales are widely known in skiing circles for their slalom and downhill ability, while Bob Stuart is a four-event man, overcoming a leg injury two years old. He is close to the top in both jumping and cross country. Bob Sheehan has proved himself definitely during this one year of competition, in both downhill and jumping, already earning his letter.

Townsend and Stuart then represented Middlebury in post-season meets not included on the college sports schedule. Both men finished well up in what is commonly known as the "stiffest competition in the East," and Bob Stuart, by virtue of his fine form, succeeded in taking the Vermont jumping crown.
INDOOR RELAY

Due to the grippe, mid-year exams, and other miscellaneous misfortunes, the indoor relay team did not enter any meets this year. However, Coach Brown took Hicks to a few meets, to run the special fifty. His performance was not spectacular, but promising for the coming track season.

The four men who were to compose the relay team were: Rasmussen, Butler, Schleider, and Scott, with freshman George Hartz as the alternate. "Ras" looks to be getting into fine shape for the hurdles in this spring's track season, and Howie Schleider is said to be shaping up for the best track season of his career. Hartz should go far toward taking Charlie Hanson's place in the quarter-mile.

Besides these six men, there was a goodly number of others out on the board track getting in trim. Dave Smith, Monty Spear, and Kenny Cosgrove, all distance men, were out quite regularly, along with some of the more promising members of the freshman cross country team, all of whom looked to be excellent material for Coach Brown.
Again only a fair season, but a season marked by freshman discoveries in all branches. Most talent was found in the track squad. Best average was sported by the tennis team. Surprise team, however, was the fencing team, which actually fences most of the winter.

Rained out of two games during the three-game opening swing through New York, and losing to Hartwick in the second game scheduled, baseball had anything but an auspicious start. Handicapped by the usual ornery Vermont weather, the team had had little opportunity to practice.

With the first good break in the weather, the boys came back to take B. U. 5-4 in a tense eleven-inning contest. It was Ed Yeomans’ triple in the last half of the eleventh, whereby he came home on a wild throw to third, which gave Middlebury the game. Paul Liehr, freshman pitcher, pitched the first six innings, allowing but four hits.

Next day, the Mikemen came to town and did a fair job of disposing of the Middmen, to the tune of 17-3. VanGaasbeck, who had relieved Liehr in the B. U. game, was not in his top form, and only pitched two innings. Sam Bertuzzi replaced him, but went out in favor of Bill Desmond, who allowed but three runs.

Over in New York, the next week, the Panthers dropped one to St. Lawrence at Canton, and took one from Clarkson Tech. Bill Desmond did very well in the box against St. Lawrence. Paul Liehr turned in the best hurling performance of the year by holding Clarkson Tech to seven hits in a game which the Blue and White won 9-5.

Back home again, the team continued to click, VanGaasbeck holding powerful U. V. M. to eight hits. Pesarik was able to hold the Middmen down to four, however, and the final score was U. V. M. 5, Middlebury 2.

This brief spurt faded away the following week at Norwich, with the team collecting but 4 runs to the Cadets’ 21. At Winooski it was almost as bad, with St. Michael’s scoring 16 markers to the Panthers’ 4, but the Panthers made a certain degree of comeback in the second Norwich game at home, when they held the visitors to 9 runs, while Coach Nash’s men collected 8. This game showed up the Panther weakness better than any other, for while the home team hit the Norwich pitchers far more than the Norwich hitters were able to get to our pitchers, the Middlebury hitters lacked the drive to send those needed runs across the plate.
Good, close contests were the watchwords of the 1940 track season. Though the season showed weakness in the distance division, several men produced the goods consistently for Midd in the dashes and in the field events.

Morehouse, that versatile freshman artist, skier, high-jumper, and music critic extraordinary from North Starr, gave Midd a good many points in the half-mile, while Art Rasmussen scattered a tremendous amount of energy over the cinders in the hurdles and in the regular dashes, collecting a first, four seconds, and a third. Lundrigan was Midd’s best bet in the high jump.

The hurdles and the dashes were Midd’s strong points, in which Bill Wood, Jack Bates and Rasmussen were high scorers. Charlie Hanson did excellent work in the dashes and in the quarter-mile.

While all this was occurring on the cinders, several men turned in fine performances throughout the year inside the oval. Brad Poole, among others, gave Midd a good many points in the discus and the shot-put. Midd could always count on some points from the pole vault, with Johnnie Trask and Jim Barclay riding the pole, while Proffy and Zydik were throwing the javelin to good effect. At times Jack Bates took time off from his hurdling to do the broad jump, where Bursaw collected points all season.

Our first scheduled meet, that with Union, was cancelled, due to a young cloudburst, which flooded the Union field. A week later, R. P. I. came to Middlebury, only to be defeated, after some close competition in the dashes.

Williams came up the next week, and proceeded to do a fairly good job of leading Midd around the course. This meet was highlighted by the performance of Chapman of Williams, who did the two-mile in 10:20, and then proceeded to take third place in a fast half-mile.

Johnnie Hicks, who had pulled his leg in his sophomore year, was back in the Middlebury line-up in the dashes, for the Vermont meet. He was up against the fastest sprinter who had ever come to Middlebury. Smith, of Vermont, led Hicks home in a 100-yard dash in the record time of 9.8, even though Hicksy lowered his previous time of 9.9. In the 220, the story was the same. Smith tied Hicks' record of 22 seconds, with Johnnie right on his tail.

Fred Butler and Charlie Hanson shared honors in the quarter-mile. Fred also did good work in the half-mile, while Charlie was busy with the dashes.

It was this meet which showed how woefully weak we were in the distances. Captain Post, the only man who had been able to give us any points in distance all year, took a second in the mile, but the rest was a walk-away for Vermont.

The two teams divided the track events evenly between them, but Vermont had an edge of three points in the field events. Here Poole won the discus and Bursaw won the broad jump.

Besides these three dual meets, Middlebury competed in one open meet; the E. I. C. A. A. Here Hicksy had the misfortune to pull his leg again. The performance of other Midd-men gave Middlebury eighth place out of a field of nine.

A good third of the Middlebury points were scored by freshmen, and another quarter by sophomores. Hicks and Freddy Butler both have another year with us. From the performance of the freshman cross-country team, the distance events should be much bolstered from this direction.

FEB. 13—THE 1941 WINTER CARNIVAL OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE IS USHERED IN TO THE MUSICAL FALL OF APRIL SHOWERS AND THE TITTERING OF BIRDS.
The golf team was late in getting started and lost its first three matches to Williams, 9-0; Union, 7 1/2-1 1/2; and to Norwich, 5-1. At Union Dixie Davis won his match, but he and Don Chapman failed to gain the best ball.

Middlebury’s first victory was registered against the University of Connecticut by a 6-0 score in a pouring rain, and again Dixie displayed his handiness with any kind of a club. So the Panther men had notched one up in anticipation of the return match with Union. However, Coach Beck’s team were again defeated, as Duke Diefendorf’s position was taken by Dan Petrizzi. This time the score was 8-1.

Then the Blue and White came back to defeat Norwich 3 1/2-2 1/2 on the home course. Here Chapman and Davis won their individual matches and their best ball. Engesser halved his match, winning the half point necessary for victory.

So, on the whole, this could not be termed a highly successful season, but again Vermont weather had a dark hand in it.
The opening match against R. P. I. was a 5-4 loss for the Panthers, a team of four veterans and two freshmen. Singles were taken by Crawford, Latham, Sprague, Haines and MacDonald, but all doubles were lost. In the next scheduled games New York State Teachers and Suffolk forfeited, while the Williams and New Hampshire contests were rained out.

A series on the home courts began with a 5-4 victory over U. V. M., as Crawford, McDowell, Sprague and Haines contributed singles victories and the McDowell-Sprague team doubles. The Panther netmen then chalked up a 9-0 count over St. Michael's.

But the visiting Springfield College team snapped the winning streak, defeating the Midd men 6-3. Scoring for the Panthers were Crawford and McDowell in singles and Crawford-Latham in doubles. The seven-match encounter with St. Lawrence was a Midd loss by a 4-3 score, with Latham, Captain McDowell and McDowell-Sprague winning their matches. Another hard loss was to Colgate, 9-0, for the Midd netmen fought to three games in all the doubles and one single.

Victory came to the Panthers in their final matches. U. V. M. lost again to the Blue and White 5-4, as McDowell, Haines and MacDonald took singles, Crawford and Latham, Haines and Petterson, doubles. The final encounter saw Midd coast to a complete 9-0 victory over Norwich University.
Fencing, now in its fourth year at Middlebury, has turned in an excellent record. Organized, coached and captained by Jim Turley, it is now one of the most formidable teams in the Eastern Minor League.

To date this year, the team has won six out of eight matches. Defeated by Norwich and Swarthmore, certainly not the strongest of its opponents, it numbers among its vanquished L. I. U., one of the strongest teams in the country.

Lettermen this year are: Small, Cady, Turley, Corbin, Nitchie, Haines, and Wilson. Fencing attained the status of a minor sport last year, though members of the team pay their own traveling expenses.

Their style is varied and definitely unorthodox. Turley is the only man whose fencing is strictly according to Hoyle. "Hook" Wilson, top foil man, fences best from two positions absolutely forbidden to good fencers. He swings in from the side with a lightning-like thrust which gives his opponent the sense of being surrounded. This maneuver always puts an "S" hook in his blade. Corbin, who managed the team this year, has a trick of bouncing his blade off the floor into his opponent's jacket.

FEB. 16—THE HANDSOME IMPORTS AND BEAUTIFUL IMPORTESSES ARE SADLY ESCORTED TO THE STATION, AND WINTER CARNIVAL IS OFFICIALLY ENDED. BOTH A SAD PARTING AND A GREAT RELIEF.
"M" Club

President
Nick Krauszer

Only difference between you and the "M" Club.

Since the meeting last spring to elect new officers, this organization has had no function. It is purely an honorary society, whose purpose is to foster athletics at Middlebury. All holders of letters in varsity sports, as well as the managers of intramural sports and of freshman football, automatically become members as soon as they receive their emblem.

Once upon a time someone thought it would be a good idea if the "M" Club earned its keep by running the gym dances, by which funds for the sweaters were obtained. The general attitude of the Club to this was, "Let George do it," and since there were no members named George, there were soon very few "M" sweaters for the men who had earned them. Since 1930, therefore, the management of these dances has reverted to the Entertainment Committee of the Assembly, headed this year by Sumner J. House. Members of the Club are reminded of its existence only when the picture for the Kaleidoscope is to be taken.

Feb. 17—An empty pocketbook, unanswered letters, unopened books, a sick, dull feeling in the head, hard work in the offing—that's Winter Carnival.
W. A. A. is one of the few organizations open to Middlebury women on the basis of interest alone. In charge this year are President Edith Grimm, Vice-President Lois Grandy, Secretary Charlotte Johnson and Treasurer Edith Ladd, as well as Custodian Jean MacDonald and Helen Rice as Manager of the Cabin. This executive board, together with the managers of sports, arrange the schedule for the year. Upon the payment of annual dues, each girl may participate in as many fields as she wishes, including skiing and modern dance.

A definite number of points is given for each activity toward the total of one thousand necessary for the award of a jacket. In addition the Council presents the W. A. A. Banner to the class which has contributed most in members, championships, individual winners and All-Midd material.

In keeping with its intramural policy, W. A. A. sponsors a playday each fall at which mixed teams of Middlebury and University of Vermont women play hockey and picnic.

No single aspect of W. A. A. is more important to Middlebury women than the cabin, erected in memory of Marion L. Young, to which chaperoned groups of girls and mixed parties may go for skiing, etc.
HOCKEY

The crack of hockey sticks against balls is a familiar sound in back of Forest Hall during autumn afternoons. From the opening of college in September until the snow begins to fall, the girls, in varied costumes, but all wearing shin guards and red pinneys, vie with each other for top honors in the sport. Even though the temperature may be more conducive to a hot radiator and a good book, the sticks continue to be wielded by the mittened hands of the enthusiasts.

The captains of this year's teams were Barbara Mower, Lois Grandy, Charlotte Johnson, and Janet Harris. They led the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman teams respectively. Intramurals were played this year in the form of a round robin tournament which was planned by Margaret Whittlesey. In the course of the tournament, every class team played every other class team. The team of '41, composed of Ellen Currie, Edith Grimm, Barbara Grow, Edith Ladd, Barbara Mower, Shirley Metcalfe, Patricia McDonald, Ruth Packard, Elaine Wadlund, Peg Waller, Helen West, and Margaret Whittlesey, was victorious, proving that they had senior standing in athletics as well as class. The Junior team was the only one to score upon them.
Although senior team number one often had only six players, Captain Peloquin finished the season on top, with the help of spikers Hastings and West.

Opposing teams considered serves by Woods and Eimer about tops until they played the men, when spiking as practiced by Betty Young proved the most effective offense.

Manager George agrees with Captains Peloquin, Giblin, Wilkin and Ansel in thinking that this has been the best season ever. “I bet volleyball will be one of the most popular sports next year” predicts an enthusiastic sophomore member of runner-up team six.

Soccer, in its second year at Middlebury, drew an enthusiastic if small group of players. The two teams, captained by Carol Hartman and Joyce Gillett, were composed mainly of freshmen, built around a nucleus of three sophomores and a junior. Miss Laking, as coach, supervised practices twice a week in preparation for the three games, two of which were won by Captain Gillett with the able support of B. J. Smith and Barbara Young. Captain Hartman’s formidable combination of Skip Wilkin, Marylee Abbott, Jean Cist and Bobby Wait were able only once to turn the tide the other way.

FEB. 20—TRY TO GET UP FOR BREAKFAST WHEN YOUR ALARM RINGS AT 6:45, AND YOU HAVEN'T ANY CLASSES UNTIL 11:30. I'VE TRIED! NOT EVEN PANCAKES WILL TURN THE TRICK.
Soon after the first snowfall we find the experienced women skiers of Middlebury trying out for the women's ski team. This winter, seventeen tryouts reported for practice slaloms and christies on Chapman Hill. The return to College after Christmas vacation saw this number reduced to six: Lucia Powell, Acky Hastings, Helen Rice, Cocky Rotch, Dottie Stewart and Lib Tracy. Coached by Dan Nupen and with Lucia Powell as captain, they practiced twice a week on Chapman and Chapel Hills, and occasionally on the Breadloaf slopes.

The first meet, scheduled to be held at Skidmore College, February 8, was called off due to poor weather. The following week, the women's ski team entered in Midd's own winter carnival, and though they did not make the top ranks, their skiing was not to be sneezed at.

At the Snow Birds' Invitation Meet held at Lake Placid, February 20, the team was represented by Lucia Powell and Cocky Rotch, with Cocky capturing first place in the Class B slalom. Then Sally Martenis came through for Midd by taking a first in the downhill at the I. S. U. Meet. This last event was the finale of the 1940-41 skiing season for the women's team.

FEB. 21—JUST RECEIVED A BOX OF CANDY, A PAIR OF SOCKS, AND A TIE "FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY." AM WONDERING WHETHER GIFT IS MEANT FOR ME OR FOR WASHINGTON.
Basketball has long been one of the most popular sports on the women's campus at Middlebury, and winter finds a great number of our fair co-eds spending their Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons working out new plays in the gym with which to baffle their opponents. The enthusiasm is perhaps most noticeable among the freshmen, whose turnout often equals four full teams, but though they may surpass the upper-class women in numbers, their enthusiasm is shared by one and all and many are the spirited conflicts taking place on the court.

The honors of the 1941 season were carried off by the seniors with the juniors bringing in a very close second. Expert handling of the ball is not limited to the juniors and seniors alone, however, and the evidence is present by the representation of all four classes on the All-Midd Team.

Under the capable leadership of Donna Dailey as manager, this year's W. A. A. basketball season came to a very successful close, with definite signs of promise among the underclassmen for an even better one next year.

FEB. 22—IMPORTANT ABSENCE IN SPANISH CLASS THIS MORNING. KITTIE, PROF. GUARNACCIA'S INSEPARABLE CANINE COMPANION, TOOK HIS FIRST CUT OF THE SEMESTER. BEING NOTHING MORE THAN A FRESHMAN, HE IS ENTITLED TO ONLY TWO MORE.
Come spring, the uncertainties of Middlebury weather and the muddy fields that go with it seem to dampen the spirits of even the athletic-minded. Comprehensives keep the seniors busy, pitching in, leaving them little time for fielding. From the less harassed underclassmen, however, there is always a sufficient number of would-be "Babes" to wear down the baselines with ruthless curves, spins, and sockeroos. Following the usual schedule for women's athletics, several open practices are held at the beginning of the season—frequently in the gym! Not even a muddy field stops the class competition that is scheduled later. Muddy shoes, legs, and shorts flash gaily over Middlebury's "diamond in the rough," better known as the hockey field.

Hard-hitters Acky Hastings and Miggles Whittlesey, Babs Grow, Patty MacDonald, and Helen West represented the victorious juniors on the All-Midd team. Kitsy Kurtz, catcher of the freshman team, and Beth Warner, pitcher, executed some spectacular double plays which helped the freshmen stay close to the juniors in score; Captain Chick Johnson and June Archibald, playing in the field, caught some of those long hits by the juniors. These freshmen and Lucene Slayton '42 were on the All-Midd team.
ARCHERY

Last spring out upon the women’s athletic field two afternoons a week you could have seen whizzing arrows flying through the air. Then you would have known that Middlebury women were once again turning back to the old pastime of Sherwood Forest. Besides fun and exercise gained from participation in archery, the merry bowmen received credit from W. A. A. for the sport. Under the leadership of Robin Hood Muriel Simms, they held a Columbia Round Tournament. That is something the merry men in Lincoln green must have missed!

HORSEBACK RIDING

Middlebury women kill about four birds with one horse by using their heads and saving their shoe leather. Not only can an equestrian return to nature along the many wooded Vermont trails near college, to Bittersweet Falls, or out Weybridge Road; but also they acquire a knowledge of riding, exercise, much fun, and credit from W. A. A. Marjorie Barkdull was the head of this sport last year. For the first time stables are located on the campus at Turner’s Barn.

MODERN DANCING

One spring evening Middlebury congregated en masse at the Playhouse to witness something new and different. The modern dance group was giving a performance. To the steady rhythm of tom-toms and drums, Middlebury’s sylphs flitted skillfully here and there. Modern dance is an art, rather than a sport, although the W. A. A. gives credit for it, and it was in a most artistic manner that the girls composed their own dances, found appropriate music for them, designed and made their own colorful costumes.

TENNIS

Tennis played in Vermont’s rugged mountain air is really a pleasure. Another one of the sports sponsored by the W. A. A., it was headed last year by Edith Ladd. Each year all of the potential Moodys, Marbles, and Jacobs of Middlebury participate in a tournament. Rain and vacation interrupted last year’s match to such an extent that it had to be completed in the fall under more favorable atmospheric conditions. Carol Hubbard was the winner, with Frances Majoros runner-up. This year the W. A. A. presented a small cup, replica of a large cup, to the winner, whereas in the past it was necessary to win the cup in three successive tournaments in order to keep it.

MEN’S STUDENT ASSEMBLY

PRESIDENT’S COUNCIL

The President’s Council is a small executive group, independent from the Assembly and composed of the President of the Undergraduate Body, the four class presidents, and not more than three appointive members.

This year’s Council consists of John H. Hicks, Stephen H. Arnold, A. Wilson Wood, Edward Peach, John Urban, Russell DeMerritt, John H. Hogan, and John M. Nugent.

The group’s chief function consists of conferring with the President to assist him in making decisions pertaining to student government. Since the Assembly is not elected until October, the Council acts as a legislative group to conduct necessary undergraduate business until the Assembly is elected and installed.

Although the Council’s major functions occur in the fall, when the President’s policies for the year are being formed, it meets frequently during the year in order that administrative problems may be surveyed from diverse viewpoints.

Entering on its second year, the Men's Student Assembly has laid plans to capitalize on and further develop the principles of self-government which were so successfully introduced last year.

Basing all legislation on the principle that students are capable of self-government and self-discipline, the Assembly committees are formulating plans for a judicial department, an entertainment department, and other equally important appendages.

When the plans for the Judicial Department are completed, the Assembly will be fully equipped to control all phases of undergraduate activity from entirely within the student body.

Without question this democratic experiment is and will continue to be beneficial to the college in general. For the first time, students have taken upon their shoulders the burden of responsibility for operating and living in an orderly and intelligent manner.

Officers for the current year are Norman E. Hatfield, speaker; Frank Blizard, secretary; and S. Peter Nikitas, Sergeant-at-arms.

In order to maintain a high pitch of interest and to achieve better results, meetings are held every two weeks instead of the former monthly intervals. Although almost every assemblyman is on a committee, a system of regular committee reports enables the entire Assembly to be aware of the work of other committees.

Since the delegates to the Assembly are elected on the basis of one for every ten students, a thorough cross-section of the student body participates in the government and rightly assumes the responsibility of legislating for the group as a whole.
Versatility seems to be one of the main characteristics of the women who have charge of the Women’s College of Middlebury, if one judges by the extra-curricular activities in which they have participated. Starting with the president of Student Union, Ruth Packard has been active and outstanding in almost every phase of campus life. Aside from being on Dean’s List and a member of Mortar Board and the winner of the Mortar Board Cup in her sophomore year, she has been very active in sports activities. As if this were not enough, she has also held several class offices and played an active part in the government of the Women’s College as well as holding the co-chairmanship of the 1940 Carnival.

Miss Packard’s active part in campus life is representative of what her fellow officers have done. The other officers of Student Union are: Vice-President, Alice Taylor '42; Secretary, Patricia Kane '42; Treasurer, Charlotte Gilbert '41; Chief Justice, Doris Lathrop '41; Assistant Treasurer, Dorothy Watson '42.

With Ruth Packard at the helm, Student Union in the past year has broken a long-standing tradition of the Women's College of Middlebury—namely, that concerning women cheerleaders. Last fall there was much consternation about the lack of school spirit at athletic contests. This issue was brought up at a Student Union meeting, and at the suggestion of women cheerleaders, everyone aroused herself from their customary lethargy and a heated discussion followed. Usually at Student Union meetings interest in the proceedings is not very high, and the president is confronted by an assembly of disinterested knitters.

Now for the first time in the history of Middlebury College co-eds will also lead cheers during football games. The women as a body next decided to support the Band in every way possible, at a time when no one was sure from day to day whether or not Middlebury College would have a band to pep up the next football game.

The freshmen have the Social Committee of Student Union to thank for the new recreation room and kitchenette in Hillcrest this year. This improvement is looked on with envious eyes by upperclassmen who lived in Hillcrest during their Freshman year and who had no such place to dance and have a good time.

So Student Union is the sole governing force of the Women's College, passing its own laws and having charge of their administration. This organization embodies the ideals of democracy for which Middlebury College is noted and forms a bond by which the women of the College are united.
The Student Life Committee of Middlebury is one of those taken-for-granted institutions which still has considerable importance. For it is here that representatives of the men's and women's student bodies meet with representatives of the Faculty and Administration to discuss problems which may arise, and to create a closer understanding between students and instructors.

The Committee is composed of five members: Dean of Men, Doctor Patterson; Dean of Women, Miss Ross; President of Undergraduate Association, John Hicks; President of Student Union, Ruth Packard; and a faculty representative, Doctor Womack of the Chemistry Department.

Meetings of this Committee are held at necessary intervals. The task of regulating the social functions of the College, the dances, entertainments and recreational events, and of juggling the social calendar rests largely with this Committee. All this provides common ground on which students and faculty meet to settle mutual problems.
ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council directs all athletic activities at Middlebury College, except athletic financing, and that branch is handled by "Coach" Brown, Director of Athletics. Even the task of raising funds for the purchase of varsity sweaters has been taken over by the Amusement Committee of the Student Assembly, which now sponsors the gym dances.

The Council consists of the Director of Athletics, the captains of varsity sports, five members of the faculty, one alumnus, and the president of the Undergraduate Association. What functions does it perform exactly? This group has the power to remove from office any captain, manager, or assistant manager. It decides upon questions of eligibility and on all disputed elections, as in the case of this year's football captaincy. It may vote on the creation of a new sport to represent Middlebury College—a reason why fencing is now on our sport schedules—or it may promote a certain minor sport to the position of major sports, a position to which skiing has been delegated.

At present Professor Cook is president of this Council.
"They say the Blue Key is coming around tonight." So sayeth many a new freshman, with trembling and awe. Hazing of freshmen at Middlebury is dead, but there is an irreducible minimum of policing which must be done. This is exclusively the job of the Blue Key. Although there is nothing which even approaches brutality in these proceedings, freshmen have been known to borrow sleeping bags and sleep out all night in the cemetery when rumors like the above one were current. However, the job is always taken in the spirit of good clean fun on both sides.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors belong to this group. Tapping for this society occurs in daily chapel soon after spring recess.

Each member has the right to wear a dark blue hat, with a key of lighter blue embroidered on it.

WAUBANAKEE

Certainly the highest honor to which a Middlebury man may attain is membership in Waubanakee. This society is self-perpetuating. All members are seniors who, in their three previous years at Middlebury, have proved themselves worthy of the honor in scholarship, personality, character, and extracurricular activity.

The men who were tapped for this society last May, have had an active career in sports, publications, social functions, class offices, or others of the College organizations.

Members have the right to wear a gold tomahawk charm, the symbol of progress, and a dark blue hat with the red tomahawk embroidered on it.

Membership in the society is limited to nine. This number has not been reached since 1918. Since then, the number has constantly diminished. Last year but three were considered worthy of being tapped, in the eyes of the active members.
In a certain room in Forest West there is a box containing two moth-eaten owls (stuffed). They're the official mascots of the Banshee Chapter of Mortar Board, collegedom's supreme honorary society for women. This year, these owls are under the custodianship of Gerry Mosher.

Gerry, as president of Mortar Board, represents all that the society stands for—service, leadership, and scholarship. Besides attaining the Dean's List she has participated on the staffs of both the Kaleidoscope and the Campus, in W. A. A. sports, class activities, and she acted as secretary of the Student Union last year.

Other members are equally outstanding. Charlotte Gilbert, the society's secretary, made Phi Beta Kappa in her Junior year. Ruth Packard is president of Student Union, while Carol Hubbard was president of her class last year. Babs Grow is women's editor of the Campus. Helen West is a biggy on the Skyline. Helen Rice has been boosting the W. A. A., and Betty Wolfington represents the Pi Phi's in Panhellenic Council.

March 5—attended a lecture on the "psychology of marriage." By Prof. Madden. Straight from the shoulder it was. Knitting needles flew, but silence reigned.
The women who are interested in contemporary political, social, and economic affairs find the program of the Women's Forum particularly valuable. The organization sponsors for the student body several authoritative speakers each year. During the regular meetings the programs consist of informal talks by members of the faculty, followed by student panel discussions. In view of the 1940 presidential election, a rousing political rally was held, in which Professor J. Perley Davison and Professor Ennis B. Womack upheld the candidates of their choice.

The Women's Forum plays an active part in the Middlebury community life through its social service work. A new project this year is the thrift shop located in the Community House, where the clothes donated by the College students are sold for very little. A real service is done when the group gives the annual Christmas party to the underprivileged children of Ripton; the gifts of toys and food are much appreciated.

If sufficient money can be earned by the projects of the Forum, the group hopes to be able to send a volunteer to the Student Peace Service.

HELEN LEE WEST
PRESIDENT
A TEMPO CLUB

The purpose of the A Tempo Club is mainly to foster the interest of the students at Middlebury in music and in the musical organizations of the College. The Club is composed mainly of women who have done some advanced work in music here.

In the fall the Club sponsored sings on the chapel steps. These were led by Jessie Matthews. Many students turned out to sing Midd songs and other old favorites with the true "Old Midd Spirit."

THE GOLD CANE

The Gold Cane was founded in the fall of 1940 to provide an organization which would represent the non-sorority women of Middlebury and attempt to meet their social and scholastic needs. Requiring a minimum of time and money, this organization is ready to serve the neutral women in whatever way necessary. The only requisites, besides 10c a semester, are a little initiative and a small amount of Christian consideration for others. Prexy Elizabeth Harlow and Activities Chairman Heidi Barret are two of its strongest boosters. Already this new organization has presented several parties.

ORCHESTRA

The function of the College Orchestra is to afford an opportunity for interested students to gain experience playing in a symphony orchestra. This organization, directed by Mr. Alan Carter, presents two concerts in Middlebury and several elsewhere in the State during the year. Members with exceptional ability are admitted to the ranks of the Vermont State Symphony.

The Middlebury College Band, undaunted by rain or snow, supplies much of the spirit and color that is associated with football, not only on Porter Field, but also at most of the out-of-town games.

The Band also plays an important part at the pep rallies which are held the night before each game. For the past three years, the Band has been led by Drum Major John W. Holt '41.

BAND
GLEE CLUB and CHOIR

The Choir is made up of forty-eight students, chosen during the trials of the preceding spring by Mr. Bedford. The Choir sings in daily and Sunday chapels, Christmas Sunday before vacation being a highlight, when the Freshman and College Choirs combine.

But the Glee Club is another distinct body, though its thirty-five members are chosen from the college Choir. Members of the Glee Club are selected for poise, personality, ability to memorize music, and voice and tone quality. During the spring recess this group makes a tour under the supervision of Walter Knight, student manager.

However, one really cannot mention Choir or Glee Club without mentioning Mr. Bedford, its director since 1936. Four times a week the Choir goes through its paces under his baton, or hands, for he doesn’t use a baton. But under Mr. Bedford this work is fun, says one of the members. When he stands up there in front, patient, yet strict when necessary, smiling as only he can smile, the Choir is ready to do or die for him.

Can the Black Panthers emulate the famed Panther band of Bernie Brusseau, which toured the college circuits back in '38? Last year the Panther band was "so-so," but lacked the precision of successful dance bands. This year, however, the Panthers were more in demand than ever—at gym dances early in the year, at sorority and fraternity formals, at the Klondike Rush, all these, plus various outside engagements.

The reason for the renewed punch is two-fold: a good-looking young lad from Mount Hermon who toots the trumpet with the feeling of an artist, and a band which is willing to put in a good many long and tedious practices at Hamlin Hall. Don Roberts is spectacular at the trumpet, but he has some good men filling in behind him. There is Bill Youngs leisurely brushing the drums when Don plays, but who is also able to break out with real fire. Of the sax section, all good men. Freshman Pete Harris stands out, is also capable of getting off some hot rides. Larry Warner is the dependable veteran at the piano.

Engagements

Gym dances; December 19, Green Mountain Junior College; December 20, Vergennes; December 27, Mount Vernon; December 28, Hotel Governor Clinton; March 15, Frosh Frolic. Also fraternity and sorority formals, Ladies-in-Waiting Ball, Scullions' Ball.
DRAMATICS

Broadway successes, revivals, and foreign movies come to Middlebury largely through the agency of the Playhouse. Owing to competition for student talent from other directions, the number of plays produced yearly has of late been cut from four to three.

“Our Town” was produced last year at Commencement. “George and Margaret” has been the only one so far of this year. “Margin for Error” is in rehearsal, and Mr. Goodreds expects to bring to Middlebury a movie of the Broadway production “Journey to Jerusalem,” by Maxwell Anderson, taken directly from the theater audience.

The Playhouse uses talent from the entire student body, though it is mainly the organ of the Dramatics Department. In the past, some of the best actors have come from outside the Dramatics Department. Technical problems of production are assigned to students in Play Direction and Advanced Studies.

THE PRESIDENTS SAY:

Malcolm Freiberg, President of the English Club: "Goodbye!"

Evelyn Parent, President of the French Club:
To keep the French spirit alive, to gain a different slant on the individual members of the faculty, to brush up on and increase one's French vocabulary, and to get an idea of the social life, songs, dances, and games; all of these are opportunities offered by "Le Cercle Français." . . . A painless and delightful way to get on more familiar ground with the French and their customs.

Benjamin Franklin, President of the German Club:
To provide greater interest for students in the language course they are taking is an important function of any club, says Benjy. The German Club also helps to dispel prejudices which we all possess by building up an appreciation of the people and their language. Here, in an informal manner, is complemented the work of the German Department.

Peter Stanlis, President of the Literary Club:
The best way to understand and appreciate art is through an exchange of different ideas; the Literary Club offers this opportunity to all those who are interested in the place which art holds in everyday life. In this atmosphere of "give-and-take" and in the self-expressing of one's theories and views, art appreciation is furthered.

Howard Hasbrouck, President of the Spanish Club:
As the presidents of the other language clubs, Howard feels that the primary aim of his club is to master the spoken language. It also affords the opportunity to meet the professors under more congenial circumstances and to become better acquainted with them.
ENGLISH

The English Club is an honorary organization whose members, limited to thirty-five, are elected from the English and American Literature majors. Threatened by competition from the newly formed Literary Club, this club threatens to disband.

FRENCH

The purpose of the French Club here at Midd is to better acquaint the students with the French language. The eighty-eight members hold their meetings the first Tuesday of every month in the Château, and their activities include singing, games and dramatics which, of course, are all carried on in French. During the year they also entertain guest speakers.

GERMAN

Although in the final consideration the German Club's contribution to its members is utilitarian, its immediate benefits are social, and what is learned at German Club meetings is assimilated under the heading of "good fun." The food is not German cooking, but it's good, and it sets the stage for some delightful old German folk songs, as well as informal talks. President Benjy Franklin keeps the ball rolling during these meetings.

SPANISH

Plays, Spanish songs and games, talks about art by Miss Martin, talks by Professor Centeno, Spanish carols at Christmas; these are all included in the program of the Spanish Club. There is also the yearly tea dance and Spanish supper, with delicious food prepared by Miss Martin in true Spanish style.
LITERARY CLUB

Truly great art cannot be destroyed by rational, objective analysis! And so the Literary Club was created last year, dedicated to the criticism of English and American literatures. Its weapons are the critical essay and fiery rhetorics, and these weapons are sharpened on mimeographed copies of literary masterpieces chosen by the club members.

This promises to be one of the more active, more enthusiastic clubs at Middlebury; meetings twice monthly, open discussions and arguments, limited membership, variety of presentation. When its prexy, Pete Stanlis, does not hold the floor, it is hoped that members of the liberal arts departments may lecture. And perhaps such contemporary greats as William Carlos Williams and Robert Frost will visit the club, though outside stimulation is to be kept at a minimum. Both President Stanlis and Program Chairman Barbara Grow are also connected with the English Club, and all members of the club can boast of scholastic excellence and creative criticism.

A NEW MAGAZINE

Directions is the newest publication on campus. In a measure, it replaces the Saxonian, but it tries to get nearer to the literary needs and tastes of the student body. Absolutely everything that can be written for anything is eligible as material. There are three issues a year.

Published by the Departments of American Literature and English, it is supported by subscription within these two departments, and by individual subscription throughout the College. The subscription price this year is fifty cents. The two undergraduate editors, appointed by the two departments, this year are Norman E. Hatfield and Allison Sanford.

The first issue, published soon after the opening of the fall semester, contained the work of some fifteen students.

In general, the magazine is a much less pretentious affair than its predecessor, and its material seems to be of a more scholarly turn.

DEBATING

CONNOR LIVINGSTON PROF. PERKINS BROWN HOVEY PRESSMAN

PROFESSOR PERKINS

Since first becoming coach of debate in 1930 Professor Perley C. Perkins has established a record that is very justly envied. Ten seasons and an as yet incomplete eleventh show a total of seventy-four decision debate wins to forty-seven losses, or about two-thirds victories. But the real success of Professor Perkins is something words cannot really measure: it is the real personal benefits his debaters have received.

MARCH 17—IT IS HARD FOR ONE TO REALIZE HOW BEAUTIFUL THE CAMPUS REALLY IS UNTIL HE SEES PICTURES OF IT. THE COLLEGE "IS TOO MUCH WITH US" IN THE ORDINARY ROUTINE FOR US TO APPRECIATE ITS ATTRACTIONS.
Although the loss of three powerful men at graduation weakened the Middlebury offense, the 1940-1941 season has been a successful one. The team has carried off more victories on its various trips to Dartmouth, Harvard, Union, Williams, Boston University and its spring trip to New York and New Jersey than in home meets. The briefs used in the Columbia radio debate will be published in the Intercollegiate Debating Annual. The contests held on the campus have included Amherst, Harvard and the annual Lawrence Prize Debate with the University of Vermont. This is the one formal debate of the year and the traditional rivalry prevails here as in athletics. This year Kyle Brown split second place and Charles Pressman won third. This junior-freshman combination worked out well during the entire season and Senior Roy Hovey occupied the key position more than once. John Connor and Bert Hadley, both out for the second year, proved very good additions.

Subjects for the year were a western hemisphere alliance, extension of powers, an Anglo-American alliance and control of un-American activities.

The 1940-1941 schedule as arranged by Alice Austin included trips to Bates, University of New Hampshire, Colby, University of Vermont, and Maine. The Christmas trip was arranged around debates with Radcliffe, Boston University, and Salem Teachers' College, the last two of which were presented on the radio. A trip to New York and New Jersey in April finished out the quota for the year. Of the two meets held here, one was with St. Lawrence and the other with Boston University. One of the most interesting debates of the year is held at the Addison County Grange, where mixed teams of Middlebury men and women vie for honors.

This year's tryouts brought out Senior Ruth Hardy as a valuable addition to the team and Joyce Gillett of the freshman class. Returning from last year were Helen West, Alice Austin, Ruth Vedder and Elisabeth von Thurn.

The question of a western hemisphere alliance provided controversial material for the majority of the debates in which Middlebury had the affirmative. Alternative to this was the topic on an increase in federal powers.

Middlebury Campus

One of the oldest student organizations in the College is the Middlebury Campus, the weekly newspaper. Founded in 1913, it has undergone many changes in organization since then. At present its purpose is to keep the student body, faculty, and subscribing alumni of the College familiar with what Middlebury individuals and teams are doing, as well as with the activities of the College as a whole.

In 1939-40, the necessary approval of the Campus constitution by the Student Union and by the Men's Assembly led to a decision to revise the paper's constitution. The incoming and the outgoing boards cooperated in this undertaking, though most of the job was done by Robert F. Pickard and Roger Griffith. The result was a more stable working basis for the paper, and in March, 1940, the new constitution was passed.

By the terms of this new constitution, the election of the new Campus Board is the joint function of the business and the editorial staffs, which, taken together, constitute the Campus Board. In the regular operation of the paper, however, these two staffs act separately.

In the interests of a better paper, salaries were substituted for the old percentage system to be paid the members of the Campus Board. Both the Men's and the Women's College must be represented on the editorial and business staff, and girls are now eligible for election to the position of editor-in-chief.

It can be safely said that the Campus is purely a student organ. The editor-in-chief is responsible to the administration for what goes in the paper, and there is a faculty advisor, Professor White. In the actual operation, this interferes very little, if at all, with complete student control.

The Campus has often been an organ of experimentation, doing new things, and finding new ways to do old things. The tryout system, which is now in effect for a number of Middlebury organizations like the Mountain Club, was pioneered by the Campus. Tryouts for the Campus staff now work under the following arrangement:

Freshman tryouts are called in the fall and in the spring. A member of the Campus Board gives them lectures on style and operation over a period of several weeks. Then they are transferred to actual work at the office.

The successful freshmen become the news staff at election time in the spring. The news staff writes stories and features, and occasionally a member takes charge of the sports page.

Some of these sophomores are elected assistant editors in their junior year. This group puts out about five issues each. The senior editors, therefore, have charge of issues in an administrative capacity.

The business staff has a similar tryout system, the freshmen folding and distributing copies, working up to circulation manager or business manager in their senior year.

MARCH 20—ELECTIONS FOR THE "CAMPUS" ARE COMING UP. I DON'T ENVY YOUR LOT, M.R., FUTURE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF. TRY-OUTS CAN SHIRK RESPONSIBILITIES, BUT YOU CAN'T.
KALEIDOSCOPE

The 1942 KALEIDOSCOPE is the first yearbook at Middlebury produced under the new constitution. By this constitution the size of the yearbook staff was reduced to four members, each of whom are entitled to a fixed salary. Any reserves go into a sinking fund, to be drawn on only in case of emergency and with the permission of the student government. Under this constitution the women of the College assume new importance, in that every office except that of editor-in-chief is open to them. That is why Mary Eimer is the first feminine business manager to grace the KALEIDOSCOPE staff.
In the three short years of its existence, the Middlebury Handbook has become an institution. It is now safe to say that without this publication, Middlebury social life would not be the same.

The publication of the Handbook is a step toward the orientation of the student entering college. The first section contains the college regulations for both men and women, and the organization of such groups as the Student Union and the German Club, as well as a list of athletic and social activities. It explains the system of men’s and women’s rushing.

The second section contains pictures of all freshmen. This is an indispensable for sizing up the “situation,” and an imperative at the fraternity smokers.

The present Junior class was the first to have a Handbook. That year it was published with both sections in a single volume. The next year it was found that the more sensible arrangement was to send the first section with the College Bulletin to the incoming students, and to publish the second section with the pictures, two months after the start of the college year.

Leroy Hovey was the editor of the 1940-41 Handbook.
The Middlebury Mountain Club, founded in 1931, was established to take advantage of the large mountain campus in stimulating interest in out-of-door activities and strictly informal recreation for all. Its membership now totals more than half the student body, which testifies to the success of its aims.

This year it was Dan Armstrong who perched on top of one of the outing trucks in the capacity of president as the climbers were herded in by the blue-shirted skyline members. In the fall, the trucks left hikers at all points south of Mansfield, and in the winter Lincoln and Breadloaf were the destinations. One of the favorite trips is a bushwhacking expedition to the East Range which is some day to be the site of a cabin, built and paid for by the Mountain Club itself, or rather by the Skyline tryouts under the direction of Gus Root.

Hilarious singing and rough-housing characterize the trips, as everyone lets go for a good time. When the last straggling climbers have panted to the summit through the crisp air and have viewed the rich autumn coloring of the surrounding countryside, the hot chocolate goes on the fire and a hush settles over the group as the paper-bag lunches are produced. It is usually late in the afternoon before the trucks jounce back up the hill to Battell, and the nodding heads in chapel mark the relaxed Mountain Clubbers. When the first snow flies, the skiers are off to Lincoln-Warren Pass, and as the season progresses, the tow at Breadloaf starts to turn. Snow or shine, every Sunday, the open slope is dotted with Middlebury skiers who flock into the warm cabin at noon for hot soup.

The organization of the Club is well planned. At the head is the president assisted by the governing board. This board is chosen from Skyline, the elective body. Freshmen must prove their interest and ability before they are admitted to this body. They must attend lectures, pass a course in first aid, and in addition to attending all hikes, help with commissary and trailbreaking. At the end of the freshman year, the number is reduced to twenty after a three-hour examination. Sophomore year finds eight of these eliminated so that six men and six women remain to take up permanent membership in Skyline.

The Middlebury Mountain Club heads Region One of the Intercollegiate Outing Club Association's three regions and holds the executive secretaryship of that organization. Trips in conjunction with other collegiate outing clubs is the goal of enthusiastic members.

The Club plays an important rôle in campus life aside from these weekly trips. In September it sponsors a get-together scavenger hunt and picnic for the incoming freshman class. Its membership fee of one dollar and the money collected on trips contribute to the financing of the annual Winter Carnival. A man and a woman are elected from Skyline each year to plan and carry out this high spot of the College year. The 1941 Carnival was directed by Hope Barton and Wilson Clark, who received very little cooperation from the elements, but carried off one of the best carnivals in the ten-year history of the Club.

The Sugarin' Off Party in the spring winds up the Mountain Club activities for the academic year. Native Vermonters know that sugaring off is serious business, but to Middlebury students it is an orgy of frozen maple sugar, pickles and snow fights.

OF NINETEEN FORTY-TWO
This year the Middlebury yearbook has striven to mean something, to present more than just a record of the school year. It does not attempt to moralize, but merely to treat the individual in such a way that he may realize that the years at Middlebury have been the best of his life, that his time here has been valuable. This Social Calendar presents, then, the poetry of college life and thus reverts once more to the theme of the book.

Sept. 18—REGISTRATION DAY

Freshman Week was chock-full of scheduled activities; the men and women were kept busy going from receptions to lectures and more receptions. Those were busy, valuable days. After a warm welcome given at an assembly in the Playhouse on Monday night, there was an informal reception at the library, where they could consult their advisers. Lectures on the use of the library were given the next day; that afternoon in a less serious vein was the Get-Acquainted Outing and the traditional scavenger hunt that was "so crazy it was fun," said Freshman Betty. Everyone enjoyed the reception given by President and Mrs. Moody, during which Gamaliel Painter's Cane was brought from its hiding place. Outstandingly important, according to the Freshmen, was the lecture on "How to Study," by Dr. Gilbert Wrenn, which revealed many secrets about finding high marks. "Middlebury in the Making," an interesting history of the college, was presented by W. Storrs Lee, College Editor.
The Middlebury men joined to honor the Class of 1944 at the annual Midd Night smoker. "Big John" Holt and the Band started the evening, and '44 displayed great spirit as they sang Midd songs and consumed quantities of cigarettes, doughnuts, and cider.

Instead of speeches, for their Midd Night, the women, under June Perry's leadership, presented comic skits for the Class of '44. But they had their singing and eating too, as the evening was rounded out with ice cream and Midd movies.

And Sadie Hawkins had her day at Middlebury, too! This November 9 was much more than an ordinary gym dance: dates were made by the women's campus, Middlebury Sadie Hawkinses did the escorting, and they carried the thing through to fighting for "cokes" at intermission.

Highlighting the humor of the evening was that pseudo (?) critical line of female stags—who did all the cutting—and later the casual invasion of M-sweatered senior women. From the first calling for dates to the end of the men's "11.30 permission," the junior women's Sadie Hawkins dance certainly did show up both sides of the dating question!
Fraternity smokers during their two-year existence at Middlebury have proved both popular and worth while to fraternity men and freshmen.

The set-up basically is that four evenings are set aside during the pre-rushing months of October and November for fraternity open houses. This is under the supervision of the Interfraternity Council, which also divides the incoming class and transfers into eight groups, two groups going to each house on each of the nights.

This College year on October 9 and 23, November 6 and 20 the eight campus fraternities held their smokers. Each house presented an evening planned with a double purpose: first, of entertaining their guests and, second, of making their acquaintance. Competition for the best smokers was keen, evidenced by the "eats," dragging out the ping-pong tables, or even setting up a bar. Not forgetting an equally important thing, upperclass fraternity members moved about the group with the very definite idea of getting to know the freshmen.

As for the freshman groups, this was their golden opportunity to get an impression of the various fraternities, otherwise forbidden ground until formal rushing. Each house, its members, and the type of smoker they presented took a thorough going-over from each of the "rushee" group as he visited it. The climax of every smoker was a series of "bull sessions" in freshman dormitory rooms and fraternity houses to discuss merits of individual and group.
Pre-A’s end all social activities for this three-day period preceding the Homecoming week-end, except for some of the old grads who returned early.

1-9-44 was the steady tramp and chorus as frosh enthusiasm reached a high pitch of "the old Midd spirit" at their annual P-Rade the first night of Homecoming.

Snake-dancing, a twisting line of masquerading freshmen poured from the gym following the rally, organized their "floats," and led the march to Porter Field. Here the P-Rade came to a halt around the already blazing bonfire and climaxed the rally with the Midd songs and cheers.

Returning alumni registered for Middlebury’s annual Homecoming on Friday, November 15, at Starr Library.

Friday night saw the opening of the program with the gym rally, when the "old Midd spirit" reached its season's pitch in preparation for the Vermont game. The P-Rade of "'44" climaxed the night as they led the march to the Porter Field bonfire.

Highlighting Saturday were the Alumni Council meeting and the tea and tour through newly opened Gifford Hall. The U. V. M. football contest saw the end of the Cats' eighteen-year Porter Field jinx as they defeated Middlebury 33-0.

Closing events were the open house fraternity tea dances and buffet suppers, followed by the informal dance in the gym to music by the Black Panthers.

CALENDAR

APRIL 6—DUCK YOUR HEADS WHEN YOU PASS THE GYM THESE DAYS. GIRLS, BROKEN JAVELINS AND DISCUSES ARE FLYING THROUGH THE AIR, AS THE BOYS SNAP OLD MAN WINTER OUT OF THEIR MUSCLES.
Along in the middle of January there comes a Saturday when there is something special in the air. Men are seen wandering about the campus in tuxes, all in the middle of an afternoon. The answer is always, "the Scullion's Ball."

This event is the function of those men who have waited table in Hepburn or Gifford Commons. Every year it is held in Hepburn Social Hall, and every year the Black Panthers furnish the music. Therefore, the success of the dance varies almost directly with the decorating of the Hall and the performance of the Panthers. This year's dance was considered one of the best.

Hepburn Social Hall was decorated in the traditional blue and white motif, with candles adding to the general glamor of the scene. To make for a more intimate and casual atmosphere, a number of small tables were used, instead of the more usual three long ones.

Chaperons for the affair were: Miss Marion Bowles, Miss Mary C. Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Mrs. Janet Kingsley, Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Edmund.

Committee heads were: Jack Johnson '41, Web Whiting '42 and Bill Small '43, and speeches were delivered by Mr. Wiley, Miss Bowles, Miss Dutton and Jack Johnson.
Middlebury's tenth Annual Winter Carnival officially opened with the coronation of William J. Bur-saw and E. Barbara Lown as King and Queen at the women's rink on Thursday evening. For their entertainment a program of figure skating featuring Lois Groben and Cedric Thayer went on the ice immediately after the ceremonies at the ice throne.

Carnival ball-goers danced to the music of Claude Thornhill's fifteen-piece band—featuring songstress Jane Essex—until the small hours of Friday morning. True carnival spirit held sway as two hundred couples enjoyed the smooth music and novelty numbers in a winter wonderland. Snow flakes falling from a ceiling of blue streamers was the decorative motif, while snowmen skiers posed against blue backgrounds covered the walls.

Middlebury's own Monte Carlo was set up in the form of the Casino, familiarly known as the better alternative to a freezing afternoon on Bread Loaf. Paper greenbacks set a-spinning the roulette wheel, popularized the races, bingo and black jack. As a final resort the "broke" turned to ping-pong tables, dancing and refreshments.
"Fleecing the Greeks" without question scored the outstanding hit from its first curtain on Friday night in the high school gymnasium. Charles Kitchell's musical comedy of Aegea—that fantastic mixture of the ancient and modern where the women ruled with an iron hand, until the iron hand was applied to them—left no doubt concerning his ability as director, actor, composer and playwright. Nor did "Fleecing the Greeks" leave any doubt that such a soup-through-nuts of a student musical comedy really belonged with Middlebury's Winter Carnival.

Capping event was Saturday night's Klondike Rush, variously labeled a "free-for-all" and even a "brawl." Plaid-shirted, ski-booted undergrads scrambled for seats on the floor of the overflowing gym, and ended Carnival with a gay, fun-filled night.
Not to be outdone by the scullions on the other side of the campus, the waitresses of Forest Hall and "Bat Cot" give their version of what a dance should be at the annual Ladies-in-Waiting Ball.

This year the affair, third formal of the year, was held in Forest Recreation Hall and, as usual, the up-and-coming Black Panthers came through with a fine job. Some forty-four couples (should we say "the cream of campus society") danced from 5 to 7, sandwiched in a dinner, and then danced from 8 to 11:40.

The waitresses were more fortunate in decorations than the scullions, for St. Valentine supplied them with an excellent motif. The doorway of the hall featured a very clever heart-shaped arrangement set off by white crepe, so that each couple passing through seemed to be part of the picture. Hearts and huge trick valentines bedecked the rest of the room. No doubt Cupid was there, too!

Chaperons were: Mrs. Moody, Miss Bowles, Mrs. Smith, Miss Allen, Miss Temple, Miss Ross, Miss Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Guarnaccia, while Marjorie Tomlinson headed the committee in charge.

Relapse: Feb. 8—LADIES-IN-WAITING BALL
With the two-fold purpose of marking the completion of a year’s activity on the college weekly and of celebrating the election of a new Senior Board, the annual Campus banquet was held at the Inn on Thursday evening, March 20.

Roger M. Griffith ’41, Editor-in-chief during the past year, presided as toastmaster at the dinner. He introduced Dwight F. Smith ’42, Marvin E. Holdredge ’42 and Mary E. Clough ’42, newly elected Editor, Business Manager and Managing Editor, respectively, Professor Raymond H. White, Campus faculty advisor, and Mr. Wilder Foote, editor of the Middlebury Register.

Speaker for the evening was Mr. W. Storrs Lee, Middlebury College Editor, who stressed in his address a few of the basic rules and attitudes of college journalism.

When spring comes lightly tripping and gaily singing over the hills of Middlebury, gaiety is heightened by the festive Junior Week. On May 17, Mal Hallett and his orchestra with Madeline Greye, soloist, opened the 1941 Junior Prom, providing many enthusiasts with a "spring swing." McCullough Gymnasium was converted into a "Big Top," featuring the red and white striped interior of a circus tent. Janet Lang was selected by the orchestra as "Queen of the Prom" and a coronation ceremony followed. Preparations for Junior Week were under supervision of the co-chairmen, Doris Lathrop and Robt. L. Johnson. Moses Hubbard was in charge of the sale of tickets and Wm. Ferguson, III, was publicity chairman.

Saturday was limelightened by four events. At 10 A.M. every fraternity served a special seasonal breakfast. Such tempting items as fresh strawberries with cream, coffee, rolls, cereals, eggs, and doughnuts were on the menus. Freshmen and Sophomores went gently on the pastry, because at eleven o’clock the more exerting rope pull and steeplechase was held in the environs of Porter Field. The site of the rope pull was at Porter Pond—six to ten feet in depth with mud bottom! About thirty Freshmen and thirty Sophomores lined up on either side of the formidable pond, and tugging began. Excitement became hilarity when the rope broke twice. Rooters became as exhausted as the pullers. Evidently the Sophomores had eaten heartier breakfasts, for the Frosh got the mud bath. Immediately following was the steeplechase, which included the following feats: Climbing over greased cable, crawling under chicken wire, a short sack race, crawling through swamp with one leg tied to a partner, and the pushing of a potato with the head. Stan Johnson was the winner. These events were planned by a committee headed by Bill Cassidy.

At 3 P.M. Midd rooters again became active at a baseball game with Norwich. Middlebury won 12 to 0. That evening the fraternity informal dances afforded opportunity to visit each house on campus.

The final event, which is a recent but strong tradition, was held Sunday, May 19, as a climax. Step-singing is always held on the steps of Mead Chapel at twilight. Each fraternity and sorority sings two songs, the winners being judged on general appearance, appropriateness, and execution. Kappa Delta Rho and Delta Delta Delta carried off the twin cups.
"Dost Thou Love Life?
Then Do Not Waste Time;
For that is the Stuff Life is Made."

Reading Week—now that is a really excellent institution, one which might well be extended in length, and even made to occur more frequently. Originally this May 31 to June 6—during which seniors struggle with comprehensives—was allowed the remaining undergrads as a time for studying for final examinations. Perhaps this was with the fond hope that some might return in September. But, anyway, let's look at the student, supposedly a "stooge" at this point.

The first day? Well, the first day of vacation is always spent sleeping; so quiet hours extend well into the first half of the day. Up for lunch—that is, almost everyone—but after that comes the luxurious feeling of an all-afternoon nap. That night? Silence is the word.

The next day our average student is what might be called half-awake. That means a long afternoon spent lying in the sun out in Hepburn garden. Motive? Oh, there are books around, but we think it's a start on a good sun-tan. The women's campus supposedly does likewise, out back of Forest, but of course we wouldn't know.

Life really comes to Middlebury with the beginning of the new week. That is, first it's tennis, and on every court available racquets whack through the whole day. Seemingly it could go on forever, but the dusk of a June night... material for imagination.

Variety (in spite of the cliche) is the spice of life, and swimming is popular the next day. Perhaps it's the bicycling, or more often the hitch-hiking, out to the pool by the Tavern that makes the cool water an invigorating and refreshing thing.

Comes the pay-off: realization that today is the last chance to—study! So it's hitting the books all day, with desperate looks at exam schedules, etc., etc. The one bright spot is that only frosh begin tomorrow. Why, one more day!

APRIL 14—IT WAS QUITE SHIVERY, BUT WITH THE MORAL SUPPORT OF MY SUN GLASSES, I MANAGED TO STUDY OUTSIDE FOR AN HOUR OR SO.
June 13, 14, 15, 16, 17,—SENIOR WEEK!

All those members of the Class of 1940 who had survived the nerve strains and trying ordeals of comprehensives found their reward on June 13, the first day of Senior Week. Dancing shadows on the floor and black and white silhouettes of the Seniors covering the walls furnished the atmosphere for the Senior Ball. At 9 P.M. dancing to the music of Berney Larkin's orchestra in the McCullough Gymnasium, the Seniors realized what Aaron Petty, first Middlebury graduate, the one and only member of his class had missed.

Friday and Saturday nights saw the Playhouse filled with a large audience thoroughly enjoying the successful revival of Our Town, by Thornton Wilder, presented under the direction of Professor V. Spencer Goodreds.

Carrying the traditional daisy chain, Junior girls escorted the Seniors into Mead Memorial Chapel on Saturday for the Class Day exercises, which were held indoors this year because of rain. In the "class oration" Glen Leggett ably expressed the position of youth in the world today.

The annual tree planting ceremony followed, with the smoking of the peace pipe, which is the symbol of class unity. As usual the Barbecue enjoyed great popularity. The Class of 1890 received the McCullough Attendance Cup with seven of its eight members present. Included in the program for the day were the Alumni Council, a reception for the class and the alumni at the home of President Paul Dwight Moody, various fraternity reunions, class reunion dinners, and an informal alumni dance in the Gym with Bobby Knight and his "Midshipmen."

President Moody was the speaker at the Baccalaureate Service on Sunday. After informal readings in the Abernethy Library on Sunday afternoon and the Twilight Musicale, the Junior and Senior girls participated in the traditional step singing ceremony in the Forest Hall Arcade, at which time the Junior women received their canes from the Seniors.

Commencement was held on Monday morning in Mead Chapel with Dr. William A. Neilson, President Emeritus of Smith College, as speaker, and another class was added to the lists of Middlebury College alumni and alumnae.
In Acknowledgment

So many more are involved than just the Kaleidoscope Staff in the publishing of this book that we, the staff, feel that we owe a special vote of thanks to those who have devoted a good bit of their time voluntarily in making this book a success. We wish to thank Jim Darrow for his excellent photography, without which the book could not possibly have come out on time. We wish to thank those students who have so generously contributed artwork to the book, Emery Mersereau '44 and Dick Morehouse '43, and all those who have packed a camera around during the past year for the Kaleidoscope, notably Mildred Becker, Doris Lathrop, Jim Darrow, Jack Ross, William McLoughry, Scott Thayer, and Stoddard Johnson. Thanks are extended to Robert Martin and Robert Halligan for their contributions to the sport writeups in this book, to Les Ingalls for his editoriial advice, to Mrs. Ripa for her picture of Tom. We wish to thank those of the faculty and the administration for their wholehearted cooperation in helping us collect the routine information that is part of a yearbook. There is Miss Helen Dukett, who has helped us in packing proofs, and Miss Ramona Ford, whose files in the Editor's office have proved invaluable. We wish to thank Mr. Storrs Lee, who was of great assistance in selecting our type for the book, and Mr. Huban, director of the press bureau, whose photography publicity was placed at our disposal. And finally we wish to extend our gratitude to those directly connected with the book, who sacrificed a great deal of their time in an effort to make this a superior yearbook. Here we believe that Mr. Gove, our official photographer, deserves special mention, since he has done many special favors for the staff, beyond the stipulations of his contract; the pictures in this book were mounted at his studio, for some weeks littering the usual tidiness of his studio. Our tryout staff, on the whole, has done an excellent job, and so we wish to express our gratitude to them here also. And finally, if it were fitting to thank ourselves, we would, but we feel that the existence of the book itself is thanks enough.
In factory after factory new machines are installed, electrical connections made, and switches thrown, demanding more and more electrical power. Community after community booms with industrial activity. The Defense Program is rolling. Wheels are turning day and night. Much is demanded of electricity for industrial use. Yet nowhere has service to any user been curtailed, nor will it be. Power and more power for homes, for business, for industry . . . . IT'S YOURS TO USE because plans were made ahead for the reserves of power which may be drawn upon at any time . . . . and even now work is being done to create reserves beyond present demand. True, the fellow above does not carry a gun . . . . yet he is a member of this important line of defense.

We pledge adequate power facilities for defense industries in the territory we serve.

LIFE

An Equitable Policy takes the IF out of LIFE. It safeguards your fondest ambitions and helps you to attain them. It eliminates many of the uncertainties, and is a friend at every turn.

In your account with success, it will be responsible for many credit entries.

James J. Hill, the empire builder of the great northwest, once said to a group of young people:

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or failure in life, the test is simple and infallible: Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose; the seed of success is not in you."

Saving indicates foresight, a balanced sense of values, and character. The person who has these attributes is quite certain to attain success.

The chief merit of a life insurance plan is that it compels you to save; and when you put your money into an EQUITABLE POLICY, you insure, in a measure, the success of your savings plan.

Furthermore, the tangible results, the accumulations you are able to build up, no matter how small, will allow you to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. Let me show you how an Equitable Policy can play an important part in enabling you to grasp these opportunities.
